

Jarman's Talk Reviews Work In Congress

Tuscaloosa Voters Asked To Re-Elect Congressman on Strength Of Past Record in House

In a resounding speech Saturday at Tuscaloosa, Congressman Pete Jarman reviewed his work during his three-year tenure in Washington and how his accomplishments had been of benefit to the people of the Sixth District.

Before a jammed court room and several hundred listeners outside the county court house who heard his words via loudspeaker, the Congressman stressed the importance of his committee work, saying that in the next Congress he would in all probability become chairman of the joint House-Senate Committee on Printing, which controls all government printing, the largest business of its kind in the world. In such cases, it will be the second time in 150 years, the entire history of Congress, that a House member will have served as chairman of this committee.

The largest crowd to hear a Congressional candidate in Tuscaloosa applauded vigorously, interrupting frequently to cheer a strong point. Mr. Jarman told of the bills he had introduced, mentioned the speeches he had made on the floor of the House, and outlined how he helped steer the administration's neutrality bill through the House, acting as a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, one of the eleven major House committees. He said he considered the present neutrality bill a strong factor in keeping this country at peace and said he would continue to work to prevent this country from entering any conflict, at the same time supporting measures for adequate national defense.

He did not mention his opponents directly, but remarked: "The platform of one of my opponents contains eleven points. Seven of these I have voted for and worked for since I have been in Congress. One I pledged my support to two years ago in a public speech (federal aid for education without federal supervision). Then he is against war, Communism, waste and extravagance.

"Who isn't against these things in our America?" he asked.

Mr. Jarman showed how he worked for and voted for reciprocal trade agreements, designed to help dispose of unneeded agricultural surpluses, thereby benefitting farmers. He spoke of how he voted for the original bill providing for parity payments to farmers.

Mentioning his interest in veterans' affairs, how he worked for veterans' legislation with special emphasis on hospitals while a member of the Veterans' Legislation Committee during his first term, the Congressman also told of his sympathy for the social security

"Pure As The Driven Snow" Caricatures The 1890 Model Of Manly Heroes

"Have you ever seen a powerful, manly-bosomed hero of the 1890's caricatured by a petite miss?

"It's being done in Palmer Auditorium on May 10, at 8:15 p.m. The occasion is the production "Pure As the Driven Snow" and the petite miss is Mary Anne Edwards, only 5 feet 2 inches tall. She vests herself in the personality of Leander Longfellow, a gallant champion of the "good" in life. As Leander, she falls in love with Purity Dean, a beautiful, helpless creature swept downward by the currents of life—more specifically by a black-haired, mustached villain who follows her and torments her from morning to night.

But Leander does not stand for this treatment of his fragile Puri-

Clean-Up Campaign Is Conducted By High School

The Student Association of Montevallo High School is beginning a new campaign toward cleaning the school. The movement started after a talk by Mr. R. C. Morrison, the town planning expert, on citizenship. Mr. Morrison told the students in no uncertain terms that the school needed a thorough cleaning.

A committee of twelve was appointed from the Student Council to plan and organize the campaign. Members of the committee are Edythe Carpenter, Dan Kirkpatrick, Jimmy Wyatt, Jackie Woolley, Edna Rae Watts, Annie Louise Holcombe, Bill Kendrick, B. J. Moore, Sarah Henry Reynolds, Louise Holcombe, Morris Villadsen, Buddy Mitcham, and Aubrey Crowe.

At the assembly meeting Wednesday morning the clean-up committee reported that provisions had been made for these committees: Poster, publicity, and inspection.

Health Officer To Examine Children Of Pre-School Age

Since it was impossible for the Health Officer to visit some of the schools for the examination of pre-school children, arrangements have been made to do these examinations at the County Health Offices.

Children who will enter school for the first time next fall may be brought into the nearest health office on the days specified and have their examination and, if desired by the parents, be immunized against diphtheria and smallpox.

The purpose of the examination is to discover any defects which might interfere with the child's development or progress in school and have these corrected before entering school. Also children in school are much more likely to be exposed to communicable diseases and should be protected against diphtheria and smallpox.

The pre-school examinations will be done at the Columbiana health office on Thursday afternoons, Montevallo office on Monday afternoons, and the Vincent office on Wednesday afternoons.—Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

Visitors Enjoy Tours of Campus And Concert By Opera Star Nino Martini

"All State Day" at Alabama College last Thursday, brought to the campus many of Alabama's favorite sons for the elaborate dedication program for Braxton Bragg Comer Hall, the new classroom building, and Julia Strudwick Hall, the Senior dormitory.

The day visitors enjoyed tours of the campus led by guides from the Student Senate. Distinguished guests of the College were entertained in the dining rooms. A concert by Nino Martini, widely known Metropolitan Opera tenor, ended the "All State Day" which will long be remembered by students, faculty and townspeople as a re-dedication of Alabama College, its physical plant and culture heritage, to the high cause of Alabama girlhood.

At the formal morning program, Donald Comer, Birmingham industrialist, eulogized his father, the late Gov. B. B. Comer, as a man who constantly fought unnecessary waste. Mr. Comer recalled that his father led the organized movement against unfair freight rates within Alabama in the early years of the 20th Century. At that time he re-called, it cost more to haul a bale of cotton from Cullman to Birmingham than from Mobile to Germany. The fight was successful.

"Today" Mr. Comer said, "Alabama's governor, together with other Southern governors, are just winning their first fight in the battle for fair rates between the sections."

Mr. Comer was elected governor in 1906. Injected into his administration was the question of prohibition. He signed Alabama's first prohibition law.

Governor Comer also brought the questions of paroles to public notice.

He interested himself in a plan by which the state of its own volition would seek out deserving prisoners who were without money or friends.

Dixon Talks

Governor Dixon in his address to the students declared that the State had made an investment in youth and that "we don't want to lose it."

Explaining how some 300,000 young people had left the section just as they reached their "productive years," the governor urged the youth of the State to "stay with your own people and take advantage of the opportunities that are offered here to enjoy the fullest life."

Discussing President Roosevelt's great human welfare program and explaining that the college's building program was made possible by it, Senator Lister Hill reinforced federal aid for education, asking,

Minutes of the last meeting were read and reports given by chairmen of the different committees.

Mrs. Holcomb, child welfare chairman, had charge of the program, reading an interesting paper on child welfare work being done by the American Legion and Auxiliary. This is one of the main points of interest and importance in the national Legion programs.

During the social hour the hostess served delicious strawberry shortcake and coffee to the members.

Senator Hildreth Speaks To Voters Of Shelby County

Columbiana, Ala., April 27—Senator Emmett Hildreth, candidate for Congress, Sixth Congressional District, spoke to a large crowd at Columbiana today and received an enthusiastic response from the crowd to his able address. At the conclusion of his address Senator Hildreth requested all who are willing to pledge their support to his candidacy for Congress to come up and shake his hand, and it was a real revelation to political observers in this section to note that the crowd with few exceptions, pledged themselves to Senator Hildreth and his candidacy.

In his stirring address, Senator Hildreth stressed his legislative record, and enumerated numerous bills which he had prepared, introduced, and successfully piloted through the Legislature of Alabama during his three terms in the Senate. He called attention to the records which show the progressive, beneficial legislation which he has sponsored and aggressively supported, and showed that he has not only voted for and actively supported good, helpful legislation for the benefit of the schools, the farmers, the veterans, the teachers, the laborers, and for all the people generally, but that he has himself worked out, prepared, introduced and successfully piloted through the legislature many excellent measures which bear his name, and which show what can be accomplished under courageous, intelligent leadership.

He pledged to give the Sixth District active, intelligent, and progressive leadership, and to obtain for the people of the District the benefits and service to which they are rightfully entitled.

It is generally recognized throughout the District that Senator Hildreth has gained strength at a remarkable rate. He has been an active, aggressive campaigner, and has won friends in every county of the District by his open, friendly, and earnest manner. He speaks and states his position on any question openly and without evasion.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hoyt Stephens and Misses Ruth, Mildred, and Melvin Stephens of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Esslinger and children, Mary Jim and Benny, of Sylacauga, were week end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stephens.

ALABAMA IS LEADING IN MATTRESS MAKING

Alabama is leading the nation in mattress making under the south-wide program to make surplus cotton available to low-income families.

Reports reaching headquarters of the Alabama Extension Service indicate that more than 1000 mattresses have already been made and that the program has reached state-wide proportions.

Indications are that 100,000 mattresses will be made under the program in the state. This would consume approximately 10,000 bales aside from the ticking used. Any farm family whose income was less than $400 last year is eligible to make application for a mattress

Mr. Nelson O. Fuller, of Centerville, young Lawyer and Secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee, is a candidate for Delegate to the Democratic National Convention, to be held in Chicago, Ill. on July 15, 1940.

He was a visitor to Montevallo recently in the interest of his candidacy.

Mr. Fuller states that it is his desire to assist in the nomination of a progressive Democratic president who believes in the preservation of the principles and ideals of Democracy, and who will advocate the progressive things which will benefit Alabama and the South as a whole.

He further states that as Speaker Bankhead is a progressive, energetic and native Alabamian with the interest of his state and nation at heart, it is his belief that the entire Alabama delegation to the National Democratic Convention should endorse Mr. Bankhead as President and actively urge his nomination.

Mr. Fuller also advocates the restoration of the two-thirds rule as he feels that this is necessary in order for the South to have a proper voice in the Democratic National Convention.

Mr. Fuller is a solicitor for Bibb County, as well as a trustee of Alabama College at Montevallo. His father, the late Jerome Fuller, was long a power in Alabama politics, having served as a delegate at large to the Chicago convention in 1932, which nominated Roosevelt. He also managed several important state-wide campaigns and was a leading member of the State Democratic Executive Committee for years. Upon his death, Nelson Fuller was chosen as his successor on this committee, being re-elected two years ago on an anti-handpicking ticket.

Partlow Delivers Speech At Clanton

In a ringing call to action before a cheering throng of friends and supporters, W. D. "Billy" Partlow, Jr., prominent attorney of Tuscaloosa, and candidate for Congress from the Sixth District, Saturday carried his campaign into Chilton County with a scathing denunciation of inaction and lack of initiative on the part of the incumbent, Pete B. Jarman.

Partlow spoke to the overflow crowd in the court room of the Chilton County court house.

Thunderous applause rose from the audience as Partlow frankly discussed the principles underlying his platform and laid bare the record of Mr. Jarman.

Pointing out Jarman's failure to record his vote for the parity payments to farmers in the amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill of 1939, and Jarman's failure to take any action toward securing federal aid for education, Partlow was wildly cheered as he pledged alert, aggressive representation to the people of the Sixth District.

Partlow praised the human welfare program of the Democratic Party and urged the necessity of carrying it through to a complete conclusion. "We must go through with the great program of the Democratic Party—a program based on common decency and fair treatment to all," Partlow continued, "a program opposed to the maintenance of government for the privileged few and dedicated to the establishment of equal economic opportunity for all the people." Partlow discussed at length his platform, calling for legislation to benefit the farmer, the laborer, the aged, the veteran, federal aid for education, elimination of discriminatory freight rates, continuation of useful federal emergency relief work and other progressive planks.

Speaking sincerely and frankly, Partlow demonstrated characteristics of initiative and originality. Obviously, the needs of the Sixth District are uppermost in the Tuscaloosa's mind as he pledged representation to all the people of the District.

Mr. Partlow plans to speak in Bibb, Shelby, Perry, Sumter, and Tuscaloosa Counties this week.

Mr. J. W. F. Garner was honored Sunday with a family reunion. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Patton and son, Tommy, of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Irby Garner of Mobile; Mrs. Henry Garner, Mrs. Walter Hollingsworth and daughter, Betty, and Mr. Albert Garner, all of Selma; Mr. and Mrs. Grady Garner and children, Cynthia and Owen, of New Haven, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hodges, Mari-beth Hodges of Auburn and James Hodges of Gadsden, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Grady of Stroud, Ala., Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McNaron and son, Homer, of Anniston, were Sunday guests of the Stephens family.

THEY HAVE FAILED TO MAKE OUT THEIR CASE

We come to the end of the first lap in the Congressional campaign still of the same opinion we had at the start: that Pete Jarman should be returned to Washington as representative of the Sixth District.

We have witnessed a vigorous and spirited campaign. A careful study of the statements that have been made has failed to disclose to us any sound reason why Mr. Jarman should be replaced by one of his opponents.

Jarman has proved that he is able (exceptionally able) to represent us in Congress. No opponent has been able to refute that proof.

Jarman, by his record, deserves the continued support and approval of the people of his district. No opponent has been able to produce any argument that refutes that record.

Jarman, by his record, has ably, truthfully, honestly and fairly represented the interests of his constituents. No opponent has proved any statement to the contrary. And no opponent has convinced us by his own record or by his deportment in this campaign that he could have done a better job in Washington than Jarman has done.

The only reason Jarman's seat in Congress is challenged is because some other aspirants want the job. We do not blame them for that, but they have not given proof that they are able to represent the district with as much or more ability than Jarman. Nor have they even proved that Jarman has failed to represent the district ably and capably in a single instance.

There have been no issues of major importance developed in the campaign. There are none, in fact, because Jarman's record and demonstrated ability has been such that not one of his challengers has been able to find a vulnerable place to attack him. His opponents have utterly failed to make out their case.

Friends of Jarman are not confused nor alarmed by the profusion of many meaningless words with which the opposition has sought to make an issue in the campaign. They know they have been floundering in their efforts to back up their personal desires with something that would look like logic to the electorate who cast the votes. Everyone knows they have made an empty failure.

Everyone, moreover, knows there is not another man in the race more able than Pete Jarman. Therefore, we predict the voters of the Sixth District will keep him in Congress where he is unquestionably and admittedly in position to do more for the District than any new man can do.

"Re-elect Jarman" is the watchword of his friends in Shelby County. The same is true of the other counties of the district.

SOUR NOTES ON EDUCATIONAL STANDARDS

Alabama's sharp-tongued Superintendent of Education Dr. A. H. Collins, in a speech at Montevallo yesterday ripped into the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The association was accused by him of being "more concerned about the number of books in a library than the use of the books."

This is an unexpected thrust by a professional educator. Before us, also is an editorial from the rowdy Tuscaloosa News which speaks from the point of view of the layman with a passion for bigger and better education.

We can do no better than to quote what The News says, in the light of the blistering remarks of Dr.

Collins at Montevallo, not all of which have we quoted. Says The News:

"The latest edict to be handed down by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools is not against some of our Alabama colleges, but against the white high schools of Birmingham.

"The association has notified Birmingham that its white high schools are not meeting requirements, and that something will have to be done about it. The association says that the 'special consideration given to the Alabama schools now for several years will not be continued after this year.' The association says that it was inclined to be lenient during the depression years, but that it no longer can be lenient.

"And where does Birmingham fail to meet the requirements? Counts are listed against several schools, and here are the three against one of them, West End High: (1) Fifteen of its teachers are overloaded beyond the 750 pupil-period per week maximum set by the association; (2) deficiency in the number of books in the library (the association's standard is at least five books per pupil enrolled); (3) inadequate appropriations for books and periodicals for the library (the standard is an annual appropriation of 75 cents per pupil).

"How much longer are the laymen of this country, and especially its taxpayers, going to endure slide-rule, dollar-mark education? This association, in condemning the Birmingham schools, gave a financial basis to every single charge. There was no questioning of the results which these schools obtained; there was no condemning of them for failing to turn out trained pupils. The condemnation was measured entirely by what money was or was not spent. It is their argument, of course, that without a precise amount of money and the proper equipment, the training cannot be accomplished—but what historical backing have they got for that contention? We wonder whether Mr. Lincoln went to a school which had five books for every pupil—and if he didn't, how did he get as far as he did? After all, we want results from our schools; the methods and the money are not the prime considerations, and cannot this Southern association forget the methods and the money long enough to grade them by their achievements rather than by their form? There are a lot of people in Alabama who have grown exceedingly weary in recent years of the childish procedure employed by the worshipers of the chart and graph." — Montgomery Advertiser.

THE MONTEVALLO BUILDING PROGRAM

The eyes of Alabamians are turned this week with a warm and friendly regard toward Montevallo where our State College for Women is dedicating the handsome new buildings whose pictures we have been seeing so often in the papers which reach our desk. As we think of it, the mention of no small town in the state evokes quite the same feeling as does Montevallo.

The reason for this, we think, is obvious. For nearly half a century Alabama College has been serving the women of the state both on its campus and in the state's distant corners through its off-campus services. This unspectacular growth and the many contributions which the institution has made to Alabama womanhood, first under the regime of President Peterson, later under Dr. Palmer and Dr. Carmichael, and now under President Harman have been too great to be ignored by even those Alabamians who do not keep fully informed on our educational progress. It is fitting, therefore, and only natural that the state at large join with the college administration in rejoicing over their new and greatly expanded building facilities. Even those of us who cannot attend the dedication exercises will be present in spirit and share the pleasure of the occasion with those who will be fortunate enough to attend.

It is a matter of particular congratulation and pride for the students and alumnae who come from Marshall County that their alma mater is giving so many signs of healthy life and progress. This week the editors received a handsome program and invitation to attend the dedicatory exercises. This sets us thinking about Montevallo and we think we have now listed for you the reasons why that name has come to mean so much in the life of our state—Arab News.

ALL STATE DAY

Alabama College was in the headlines this week with the formal dedication of two new buildings—Braxton Bragg Comer Hall, and Julia Tutwiler Hall—both praised by architects as being two of the most beautiful college buildings in the south.

Present for the dedicatory services Thursday were Governor Frank M. Dixon and Senator Lister Hill, among other notable leaders of the state.

Alabama can justly be proud of Alabama College, and owes a great debt to the men and women of Alabama who have been responsible for the progress of the school.—Aliceville Times.

L. H. (HANDY) ELLIS

To the Voters of Shelby County:

In connection with my candidacy for Delegate to the National Convention of the Democratic Party, I wish to make this brief statement to the voters of Shelby County.

As this is my home County, I have made no campaign here and shall not undertake to make one, but will be content to issue this statement, relying upon my people to favor me with their votes as they have in the past.

I believe in the principles of the Democratic Party and indorse the achievements of the National Administration for the past seven years. There are errors in it, things to be cured, and things to be changed, and improved upon, but those will be worked out in due course, I am sure. Few have endorsed it all. I have disagreed in several respects. In the main I endorse it. It is our record and on it we go to the people. By it we stand or fall.

The Democratic Party, under the leadership of President Roosevelt, has put human welfare above material things and the human soul above glittering gold. This is as it should be. I endorse it.

It is customary for people to favor their home County man in a race of this kind, when there is no serious reason why they should not do so. I trust that no such reason exist at this time, and I will appreciate the vote of the people of the County on May the 7th.

Respectfully submitted,

L. H. ELLIS

PROVISIONS OF AAA PROGRAM ARE UPHELD

Auburn, Ala. — The provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 which will govern 1940 marketing of cotton have been completely upheld in a criminal case against a group of Cleveland County, N. C., farmers according to A. W. Jones State AAA executive officer. In the first criminal prosecution involving cotton under the Agricultural Adjustment act, Judge E. Yates Webb levied a $25 fine on each of the ten defendants who pleaded guilty to charges of aiding and abetting evasion of penalties incurred on cotton marketed in excess of their marketing quotas. In addition, the court ordered the defendants to pay approximately $4,500 to the Cleveland County agricultural conservation committee as unpaid penalties.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts of Troop 2 (Pine Cone Troop) met at the Little House Monday afternoon.

Miss Ribble distributed the badges and pins that the girls had ordered.

The girls went to patrol corners and discussed what they would like to do for the next four or five weeks. Some of the things they would like to do are spend the night at the Little House, plant flowers, go on hikes, and cook outdoors.

Miss Mary Sterne, a college student, gave the Scouts a questionnaire about the kind of magazines they liked. The meeting was ended with a goodnight circle. Miss Ribble and the following girls were present: Julia Rogan, Edine Sellers, Edna Wells, Margaret Bickler, Tootsie Clayton, Sarah Barr, Peggy Davis, Mary Jean Kennerly, Sarah Henry Reynolds, and Dama Wills.

The Girl Scouts of Troop 3 met Thursday, April 18. We played some games and elected new patrol leaders. Marjorie Shores, Joyce Baker, Katherine Bridges and Margaret Kennerly were elected as the new patrol leaders. Alice Creel, Una Fay Davis, Sue Chambley, and Ann Coats were chosen as new assistant patrol leaders. Mildred Wooten is our scribe and Una Faye Davis is our treasurer. Afterwards the new patrol leaders and Mrs. Vaughan held court of honor.

Those of you who think spring cleaning isn't any fun weren't with the Girl Scouts when they met last Saturday around ten with rakes, brooms, hoes and every conceivable implement to clean up the Little House and grounds.

One group tacked netting over the windows while several other girls washed the windows, another large group raked and cut weeds, also dug up beds and planted the flowers while others carried rocks and brick and helped get things ready for Mr. Jones-Williams to finish the out-door fire place.

The most fun of course was eating the picnic lunch after the work was over.

Members of the council there, were Mrs. Appleton, Mrs. Vaughan, Mrs. Kenerly, Mrs. Wills, and Miss Saylor and Mrs. Wood the Brownie leaders.

The girls were Ann Coats, Marjorie Shores, Alice Creel Dorothy Thomas, Dorothy Ann Baumgartner, Joyce Farlow, Joyce Baker, Mildred Wooten, Cathrine Bridges, Evelyn Ward, Carolyn Ray, Mary Jean Kinnerly, Peggy Davis, Una Faye Dennis, Sarah Henry Reynolds, Jackie Wooley, Dama Wills, Pat Weems, Francis Nybeck, Margaret Kennerly, Betty Gravlee and Miss Jane Allen.

Better Homes Week Being Observed

National Better Home Week is being observed April 28-May 4. The purpose of the campaign is to help families discover the most economical ways of making their homes more convenient, comfortable, and attractive. The campaign is already under way in Shelby County. The committees outlined the following points to be stressed:

barnyards, drain all standing water, build sanitary toilets, move woodpile to back of house, mount all mailboxes on post or standard 4 in. square or 4 x 6 in. and 4 feet from the ground. Place box on right hand side of the road, leading from the postoffice, with the name printed on with black enamel (add small amount of turpentine to prevent running).

Sixth Congressional District

Let's Talk Common Sense

What kind of Congressman do we want and need?

Do we need a man who merely votes, and then not all the time, on measures which come before Congress?

Do we want a man who is unwilling or incapable of debating the issues with a primary opponent before the people?

Do we want a man who has never prepared and introduced a bill, or an amendment to a bill, or a resolution in any legislative body?

Do we want a man who is untrained, unseasoned, and inexperienced in legislative and public affairs?

Do we want a man who has so far forgotten the people that he does not even issue a platform, or state his position on the vital issues before the people?

Do we want a man whose lack of experience and training in public and legislative affairs causes him to constantly change his platform and position in the primary campaign?

Challenge To Debate

Again Senator Hildreth is consistently challenging Mr. Jarman and Mr. Partlow to debate the issues—again he receives no answer, just silence.

HUGH WHITE

ALABAMA PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

It is with great appreciation I acknowledge the following which has been said about me by many citizens and newspapers of Alabama.

"No other man in the South—few in the nation—knows as much about railroad and utility rates as Hugh White.

"He has been a leader in the fight of Southeastern Governors for fair North-South freight rates."

"Utility rate reductions in Alabama since Hugh White took office, are saving customers MORE THAN $6,000,000 YEARLY."

Alabama's government needs trained men who know their jobs.
A good record is better than campaign promises.

On April 2, 1940, Mr. Donald Comer wrote me as follows:

"Some years ago, with others of your friends, I asked Governor Graves to appoint you as Chairman of the Alabama Public Service Commission, and I have been glad to continue my support since then and am voting for you in the May primary.

"In this coming primary, I would like to say that I am not voting against anyone; I am just continuing my support for my long-time friend, Hugh White.

Yours very truly,

Pete Jarman Again Called to Washington

Sends Personal Message To Every Voter

I am again called to Washington to vote and work for Parity Payment Legislation, but will return immediately.

I was anxious to see every one of you personally because nothing affords me more pleasure, but the duties of my office and the necessity to return to Washington twice because of important agricultural measures have prevented it. My failure to see you who I missed was my great misfortune and I wish to assure everyone of my sincere appreciation of the excellent work done for me.

The ever increasing vote which is assured me next Tuesday indicates your interest in your Government and your approval of my record and my hard work in your behalf. My energy has been and will continue to be dedicated to the best interests of the whole citizenship of our District.

Let us renew our efforts until the election that we may win in the first primary. Thank you from the bottom of my heart.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Baptist Missionary Society met Monday afternoon, April 29 for a program and business meeting.

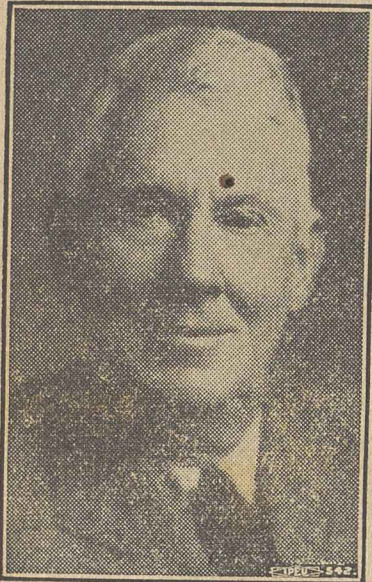

Mrs. J. L. Bridges, program leader opened the discussion with the topic "Steadfast Purpose in a Changing World," Mrs. H. G. Parker led a very interesting discussion on "God's Standard of a Home." The subject "Promoting Americanism," was given by Mrs. N. R. Phillips. Mrs. M. P. Jeter talked on "Preserving Peace" "God's Standard of W. M. U." was given by Mrs. H. C. Langston.

Circle No. 1 reported 12 members present and Circle No. 2 answered the roll call to 14 members and 2 visitors present.

Mrs. Greba Wallace, Young Peoples' leader, reported that Mr. Jack Wood is to have charge of the R. A.'s meeting is called for Friday afternoon at the church at 3:00 o'clock. Refreshments are to be served. All boys eligible to join or past members are urged to attend this meeting.

EMMETT A. JONES

The friends and acquaintances of Mr. Emmett A. Jones, a former citizen of Montevallo and a brother-in-law of Mrs. F. W. Rogan, will be grieved to hear of his death last Thursday in Covington, La. He is survived by two daughters by his former wife who died several years ago. The daughters are Mrs. Cecil White of Jacksonville and Mrs. William Timberlake of Roxboro, N. C. Interment was at Demopolis.

"It is not the color of my hair that worries the other candidates. But the class of gray brain matter under my hair that makes them sore."

CONGRESS

The Political Committee of the Tuscaloosa Central Labor Union reported of me:

"Mr. Maxwell is a candidate who is well known to all of us for his humane interest in the progress of workers in industry and on the farm. He is a member of the Farm Bureau Federation and the Veterans' organizations. Mr. Maxwell fully endorses our entire legislative program as evidenced by his communication of March 14, 1940."

Thus farmers and city workers can join with labor to elect MAXWELL to Congress.

I am a candidate to represent the Sixth Alabama District in the Seventy-seventh United States Congress. I call upon all farmers to be campaigners to elect me, the only seasoned, tried and true Two-War Veteran Farmer. Get all other country and town citizens to vote with us and give Tom Maxwell an overwhelming vote of 21,000 in the primary May 7, 1940, by counties as below:

Bibb	2500	Perry	1800
Chilton	3000	Shelby	3000
Greene	1000	Tuscaloosa	7500
Hale	2000	Sumter	1000

Maxwell Contracts For:

For all citizens and veterans $40 a month age pension; 40 cents per pound parity for cotton and insurance on the controlled crop; collective bargaining for the farmer and industrial labor; a 100-bed hospital for any town giving a site; continuing of federal aid to roads, school houses and WPA until such support is no longer needed. Our goal for prosperity's sake "is a job for every able-bodied person in America." Cessation of freight and tariff discriminations against the South.

Six hour day for industry.

I have registered personally for war, but shall never urge our nation to expose our boys to foreign wars. I favor adequate national defense.

I thank the ladies and gentlemen of the farms and the towns for their magnificent support in enabling me to win with the contract to obtain pensions for the aged and veterans. Thus is demonstrated that perseverance receives its reward.

Jarman

laws and the "humanitarian" program of the present administration.

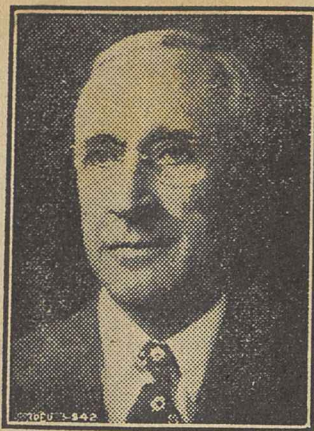

In concluding, Mr. Jarman said since there were no issues at stake, voters could decide solely on the experience, capabilities and demonstrated capacity for service of the various candidates.

"If you approve of my work and my record and wish to preserve the valuable seniority of your District; if you desire to keep the chairmanships the Sixth District has earned; if you wish continued membership on the Foreign Affairs Committee which is now the most important committee in the House; if you approve of my diligent representation of the whole people of the District, then express yourself by your active influence and vote, thereby contributing to the landslide which seems to be in progress."

Mr. Jarman expressed regret that he had been denied the pleasure of seeing many people but said the performance of his duties in their behalf had caused this. In fact, it will probably be necessary for him to be in Washington as you read this to vote and work for agricultural legislation.

The many friends of Mr. W. L. Christian of Columbiana, wish to congratulate him on being elected president of the Columbiana Savings bank at the recent meeting of the Board of Directors.

Mr. Christian succeeded Mr. W. F. Davis who died, April 11.

HUGH WHITE

Hugh White Seeks Re-Election As Head of APSC

Montgomery, Ala.—Hugh White, president of the Alabama Public Service Commission and candidate for re-election, an outstanding figure in the South's fight for fair freight rate revision, today stated his stand with regard to the affairs which the commission administers:

"To reach no conclusion without a full consideration of the facts from all sides, of any matter under the jurisdiction of the commission;

"To exercise a policy of fair play, toward all parties in every matter brought to the commission for decision;

"Not to pre-judge any case brought before the commission; and

"To keep in mind that while rates for electric, gas and water service must be as low as conditions will permit, they should be sufficient to enable the utilities to continue to render adequate service to the communities in which they do business."

Speaking of his personal platform, Mr. White stated that "in this campaign, as in former campaigns, I do not intend to stoop to personalities. My record as a public official speaks for itself and has won for me the respect of all those who have had occasion to deal with me. I intend to make no campaign promises other than that I shall continue to exercise the functions of the office of president of the commission in a manner consistent with the American ideals of honesty and fair play. Campaign promises are seldom kept, largely because when the promises are made they are not based on full knowledge of all the circumstances. My record speaks for itself. The people will not be misled by extravagant campaign promises."

Moultrie D. Parker, age 47, passed away Monday morning at the Veterans Hospital, Tuscaloosa. He is survived by the widow; two daughters, Bettie Joan Parker and Linda Jean Parker; mother, Mrs. Josephine Parker; four brothers, Fred V., V. H., R. C., and L. P. Parker; three sisters, Mrs. B. H. Smitherman, Mrs. Ida Hendrick, of Montevallo, Mrs. F. S. Hunter.

Active pallbearers, Benton Hudson, Earl Morton, Russell Morton, Pitts Smitherman, Harold Hunter, W. H. Parker, all nephews of the deceased.

Dr. J. I. Reid has moved his office to the dwelling previously occupied by Mrs. E. G. Smitherman. It is located next to G. T. Elliott Grocery Company.

"If the federal government has the power to send a boy to death in the time of war, why shouldn't it prepare him for citizenship in a time of peace?"

Hill For Federal Aid

"Nothing is more important in the fight for federal aid," he declared, "than for the state to do its utmost in providing for education out of its own funds. We should insist that education be placed on a parity with or ahead of other functions of the state."

"I will not be satisfied until Alabama youth have the same educational opportunities as the youth of other states."

Miss Tutwiler's Eccentricities

Hon. Gessner T. McCorvey of Mobile, noted lawyer and nephew of Miss Tutwiler, related interesting stories of the personal characteristic of this notable woman who was responsible for the introduction of co-education at the state university and contributed in large amounts toward the cause of education for women in the state, and to whom Alabama College itself is forever indebted for her courage in fighting for that cause.

Dr. A. H. Collins, State Superintendent of Education, in his address, traced the history of higher education from beginning. He said that the physical plant of an institution of higher learning does not matter greatly so long as the whole of the facilities is used for the development of the youth it takes in to itself for education.

The formal program ended with the dedication by President A. F. Harman, and the singing of the Alma Mater.

Mrs. Presly Jeter and little Pep spent Saturday in Birmingham.

Jarman Leads In 4-Way Race For Congress

Incumbent Falls 1,593 Votes Short of Nomination in First Primary Tuesday

Unofficial reports on the Congressional primary of Tuesday were obtained by The Times Wednesday afternoon from The Tuscaloosa News. This report gave the following figures on the race as compiled incomplete and unofficially for the district by The News:

Jarman	11,035
Partlow	9,417
Hildreth	2,417
Maxwell	417

According to the above figures it will be seen that Congressman Jarman lacked 1,593 of obtaining a majority over his three opponents. The figures further indicate that Jarman and Partlow will settle the race finally in a run-off primary a month from now.

F.D.R. At-Large Victory Rebuff to Dixon

Quoting from Birmingham News: "The magic of President Roosevelt and the New Deal, coupled with organized labor's endorsement and its own vote-getting strength, apparently brought victory for the Bankhead - Hill - Carmichael-Steagall ticket for four posts as delegates - at - large to the Democratic national convention at Chicago July 15.

This ticket, labeled the "Roosevelt-New Deal" slate, and which was circulated over Alabama the closing week of the campaign, had swept Senators Bankhead and Hill and Congressman Steagall and Lieutenant Governor Carmichael far ahead of the other two candidates, Harry Ayers, Anniston publisher and David S. Anderson, Birmingham attorney and anti - third term.

"The defeat of Ayers, close friend and political ally of Governor Dixon, was seen by politicians as a rebuff to the governor."

Adult Schools Of County Meet Needs Of Education

The WPA Adult Schools of Shelby County are just another way that Shelby County is meeting the needs of the adult learners. These schools are sponsored by the state and county Board of Education. The purpose of the educational program is to provide for the two extremes of the educational ladder, adult groups and pre-school ages. It provides positions for the unemployed teachers.

In Alabama during the year of 1939, 28,000 were enrolled in WPA schools under the direction of 528 teachers. Of the number enrolled 4,250 were taught to read and write. The 1940 census will perhaps show one result of the program, with the decrease of illiterates within the state. In Shelby County there are now 4 teachers with an enrollment of 59 white pupils and 96 Negroes. There are two Negro teachers in Shelby County. Since September, four have been taught to read and write.

The three R's have their place in these schools, but reading, writing and arithmetic are only one phase of the work of the adult teachers. Some college and many high school groups are organized to review subjects they have forgotten and to do systematic study with groups whose interests are the same. Classes in homemaking, parent education, current news, citizenship and sanitation are organized. Parent education and homemaking are among the leaders. Many of the county agencies cooperate with the teachers in their work. Books are studied and demonstrations are (Continued on back page)

College Dairy Cows Find Routine Upset By Daylight Time

Alabama College counts among its greatest assets the fine herd of thoroughbred cows which keeps students' demands for milk well supplied from the college dairy. For a number of years everything had gone well —until Sunday morning.

The breakfast bell sounded. Sleepy students filed in, took their customary places—and lo —no milk! Not having been consulted, the cows had refused to go on Daylight Saving Time!

The Senior Class of Montevallo High School reached another milestone Friday night, May 3, when it held its annual class banquet and dance.

Robert Adams, class president, made the welcoming address to the faculty and students. After the president's address, John Orr read the class prophecy.

Music on the program was contributed by Frances Bailey in the form of a piano solo entitled "Consolation."

Following this brief musical interlude, the class will was read by Anne Appleton, concluding the program.

Immediately after the festivities at the banquet, the class went to the high school gymnasium for more frivolity and fun in the form of dancing.

Study Club Holds Open Meeting

The annual open meeting of the Montevallo Study Club was held last Wednesday afternoon at the Girl Scout House. This meeting is usually looked forward to with much pleasure, as each member is privileged to invite a guest.

Mrs. Tidwell presided at the meeting and gave an inspiring talk on the Golden Jubilee celebration being observed by the National Federation of Women's Clubs. The Study Club is very fortunate in having two state officers in its membership, Mrs. E. D. Reynolds, who is Fourth District director, and Mrs. E. P. Hood, secretary-treasurer of this district. Their honor serves to strengthen the tie with the state organization.

A musical program was in charge of Mrs. Josephine Waller of the Alabama College training school faculty. She presented a group of her pupils. Dama Wills and Margaret Kennerly gave piano selections; Mayo Baker, Lydia Bridges, and Dama Wills sang a lovely group of songs.

The main speaker of the afternoon was Miss Edythe Saylor of the Alabama College faculty. She told in a most delightful manner of a Christmas cruise she took two years ago with the United Fruit Company. She had an interesting display of articles purchased on the trip. Also the enlarged kodak pictures she made of the scenes were lovely.

A social hour was enjoyed by twenty-eight members and guests.

Wyle To Deliver Sermon At College Closing Exercises

The baccalaureate sermon for the Alabama College commencement will be delivered by Dr. Ewart H. Wyle, pastor of the First Christian Church, Birmingham, on Sunday, May 26, in Palmer Auditorium.

A native of England, Dr. Wyle has lived in four countries where his parents were pioneer missionaries. He came to the United States in 1920, and before coming to Alabama he served in the Board of Directors of Texas Christian University, held pastorates in Pennsylvania, Kentucky, and Texas.

This year he is president of the State Convention of the Christian Churches of Alabama. He is immediate past president of the Birmingham Protestant Pastors' Union.

Dr. Wyle has chosen as his sermon topic, "Do You Care to Live?" Seniors numbering approximately 160 will be taking part in the 1940 commencement program. This is the largest group ever to be graduated from Alabama College. These girls are from every section of Alabama.

Students To Present Education in a Democracy

"Education in a Democracy," plays written by the Senior I class of Montevallo High School and directed by Miss Margaret Kornegay, will be presented May 15, at 8 o'clock p.m. in Palmer Auditorium.

These plays climax a study of education in a democracy which grew from the making of a movie showing the work of Montevallo High School. Four periods of education dramatized in these plays are "Pioneer Days," a scene showing how education was carried on in the homes; "Education in 1850," which takes place in a girls' academy and shows how girls at that time were educated. The third scene is typical of schools of the early 1900's. The last scene will be a movie of the Montevallo High School, made by a group of Senior I's under the direction of Mr. J. T. Bagwell.

The Junior II class is helping with the speech chorus, which describes these periods in poetry.

The planning and making of costumes is being done by the students of the Senior I class.

Virtue Triumphs Over Villainy In Melodrama "Pure As The Driven Snow"

The sight of a manly - bosomed hero of the 1890's caricatured by a petite miss is the highlight of "Pure as the Driven Snow" — the show with which the College Theatre at Alabama College closes its 1939 - 40 season.

It's being done in Palmer Auditorium on May 10 at 8:15 p.m. The occasion is the production "Pure as the Driven Snow" and the petite miss is Mary Anne Edwards, of Bessemer, only 5 feet 2 inches tall. She vests herself in the personality of Leander Longfellow, a gallant champion of the "good" in life. As Leander, she falls in love with Purity Dean, a beautiful, helpless creature swept downward by the currents of life—more specifically by a black-haired, mustached villain who follows her and torments her from morning to night. Purity is played by Miss Maoma Moore of Birmingham.

But Leander does not stand for this treatment of his fragile Purity. He is a virtuous lad, and a powerful one. And when he sets his head on putting an end to the villain's power, there's not a man alive that can stop him. It's not the method he uses, but the end that is important to him. And the end is a happy one for he gets the girl—as most manly-bosomed heroes of the 1890's did — after having outwitted the sleek, top-hatted villain, who is Mary Kelly Porter, of New Albany, Miss.

According to Director Jack Warfield, Miss Edwards is convincing in her portrayal of Leander. She makes you pity his ignorance; but best of all she makes you like Leander.

To make this corny melodrama more authentic, Director Warfield is threatening to use candle lamps for footlights. Peanuts will be hawked between acts. Expression of opinion from the audience—either remarks or overripe vegetables—will not come as a surprise. The more harrowing scenes are calculated to play a pizzicato on the heartstrings of the audience. Even the bills advertising this great drama are printed in type that was used to boost Grover Cleveland 50 years ago.

"HOPE FOR THE OLD GAL YET"

It is often said that popular indifference to government is the scourge of democracy.

We wouldn't doubt it. So discouraged do editors and students become that quite often one of them will express himself in such phrases as "the decay of popular government" or "the rout of democracy."

But something always happens. The other day news came that in no fewer than 149 Alabama cities and towns women have organized units of the National Consumers Tax Commission to study their local governments for the purpose of increasing administrative efficiency and lowering taxes. In 149 places in Alabama, mind you, and they intend to carry out their project in a "friendly and cooperative" manner. In 5,000 cities and towns, the country over! One is not surprised to learn that the NCTC is headed by a former national president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Democracy may be dead or dying in many parts of this sorry world and she may have an ailment or two right here in the U. S. A.—but with an activity like this one sweeping the country, there's "hope for the old gal yet."

Here is a "Joe Darter" for us American Legion members in Montevallo:

The election Tuesday was held in the Legion Hut.

A lady elector entered the place, evidently the first time she had ever been in there.

"What is this?" she asked, "a Negro dance hall?"

As a member of the Legion, and as a citizen of the community, we cannot blame the lady for her impressions. We can only blame ourselves.

Letter to the Editor

Editor, The Times:

I have been thinking someone else would some time or other bring this matter to the paper and give the Civic Club and Business Women's Club something to think about.

It seems that we can find funds to keep up streets and other necessary things, but it looks like if we would try, we could make our cemetery a beautiful place and one we would not be ashamed to show strangers and tell them that is the Montevallo cemetery. I feel sure if we would try we could do something about it. In the summer it looks like a wilderness.

I believe the folks who have lots there, whether they live in Montevallo or elsewhere, would be glad to contribute so much a year for the upkeep. I am sure the town would be proud of their efforts. Let's try to do something.

Two Dairy Sires To Tour State

Plans have been made for two bulls—a Guernsey and a Jersey—to make a tour of Alabama, May 6-14, to encourage the use of purebred sires in the state.

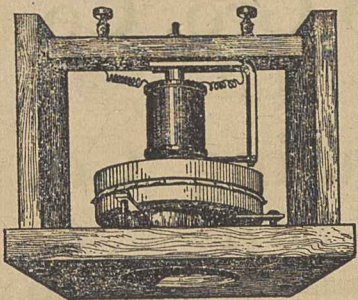

The tour is being sponsored by the Alabama Dairy Products Association in cooperation with the Alabama Extension Service, the dairy department of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, and Alabama dairy boosters.

Places to be visited during the tour are: Opelika, Alexander City, Sylacauga, Anniston, Gadsden, Boaz, Huntsville, Decatur, Moulton, Tuscumbia, Florence, Russellville, Hamilton, Fayette, Tuscaloosa, Eutaw, Livingston, Demopolis, Linden, Safford, Uniontown, Greensboro, Marion, Selma, Hayneville, Montgomery, Wetumpka, Tallassee, and Tuskegee.

As Alabama farmers go about planting their 1940 cotton crop, they are making every effort to plant within their acreage allotment to prevent loss of payments, loss of fertilizer and to prevent penalties.

Almost any farmer can acquire a calf, a pig, a few chickens, with very little cash outlay or in exchange for labor or farm products. But farm animals and poultry have to be fed, and few farmers can afford to buy feed throughout the year. Home-grown feed is the answer to the problem.

Alexander Graham Bell's First Telephone

From this crude Beginning

... the telephone has been made a world-wide medium of voice communication ... a dependable servant, available at low cost, to people in all walks of life. This remarkable achievement is the result of American initiative, organization and ingenuity.

The 21,500 Southern Bell workers have had an important part in this achievement. It is a source of satisfaction to them to know that they, together with thousands of other Bell System workers, have made it possible for anyone today using a Bell or Bell connected telephone to talk to almost any point in America, many foreign countries, and to ships at sea.

Americans enjoy the best, most dependable and cheapest telephone service in the world. They are assured of its continuance because it is the Company's policy to keep telephone facilities and quality of service ahead of public expectation.

Farmers Urged To Save Clover Seed

Auburn, Ala.—A shortage of crimson clover seed is expected this year in Alabama in the opinion of J. C. Lowery, extension agronomist, who advises farmers with good stands of crimson clover to save the seed.

Lowery bases his opinion on the dry weather in the fall of 1939 and the cold that followed which killed out a great deal of the clover that normally would have been saved for seed this spring.

"The reduction of seed imported due to the European war will also add to the shortage of the seed supply," he explained.

"Farmers having seed on hand will not have to buy high-priced seed and if a surplus is produced, they can be sold to good advantage," he says.

Cream Production Is Compared To Cotton

Auburn, Ala. — Cream money is just as good as cotton money and has the added advantage of coming in every two weeks instead of only once a year, says F. W. Burns, extension livestock specialist, in pointing out that five good dairy cows would bring in as much income as would be received from eight bales of cotton at present prices of cotton and butterfat.

"With reduced acreage in cotton and a smaller income from this source, dairy cows can fill an important place in the farming program of Alabama," he states.

Five acres of legume hay, one acre in silage, five acres in corn, and 10 acres in good permanent pasture will feed five good dairy cows if you will swap two tons of cottonseed for cottonseed meal this fall.

Gardens, cows hogs and chickens, plus orchards and feed for livestock form the basis for a home-grown food and feed supply.

held. The WPA library is well equipped with many of the latest books on family relations, child development, and general interest subjects, which are used by the teachers and pupils. "In-service Training" classes are held, where the teachers gather for workshops. Guest speakers who are authorities in their fields are invited to meet with the teachers.

WPA schools for adults are trying to teach pupils "How to Think," and not "What to Think." Information is basic to thinking. One of the most important parts of adult education is to provide this information to suggest sources for obtaining it, and to direct intelligent selections of appropriate materials. The aim of adult education is to meet the needs and interest of the adult learners. This is what the WPA adult schools are striving to do in Shelby County.

Visit them during the week of May 21-24 and see if "This work pays our community."

Poppy Day To Be Observed By Auxiliary

Mrs. P. D. Pendleton Announces Annual Sale of Memorial Flowers To Aid War Veterans

Poppy Day will be observed in Montevallo and throughout the nation on May 25, the Saturday before Memorial Day, Mrs. P. D. Pendleton, president of Hendrick-Hudson Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, announced today. On that day all Americans will be asked to wear memorial poppies in tribute to the World War dead and to aid the living victims of war.

The little red memorial flowers will be distributed here by women and girls of the unit, under the direction of Mrs. W. M. Wyatt, chairman of the Poppy Day committee. All contributions received for the poppies will go to Legion and Auxiliary welfare work for the disabled veterans, their families and the families of the dead.

"We feel that Poppy Day will have increased meaning to America this year," said Mrs. Pendleton, "because renewed warfare in Europe has renewed the memory of those boys of ours who gave their lives 'over there' twenty-two years ago. It is for them that we put on the poppy each year, to show that we still remember and honor their sacrifices. It is the flower which grew where they fell and which now blooms on the coats of Americans who appreciate their service."

"Events of the past year have shown us clearly that to be secure the United States must have men ready and able to defend the country, willing to give their lives in its defense, if necessary. We can be thankful today that we had such men twenty-two years ago. From them we can draw inspiration for the patriotic service necessary to maintain our freedom and democracy against today's dangers. Wearing their flower over hearts means that within our hearts their love of America still lives."

Board Provides For County Library

Chairman W. L. Brown of the Shelby County Board of Revenue, advises that the Board, at its meeting last Monday, voted to contribute $1,000 of county funds toward expense of establishing a county library at Columbiana. It is stated that the county's donation will be matched by a like amount from both state and federal agencies, thus giving the project $3,000 with which to start.

A large delegation of interested persons appeared before the Board in the interest of the project.

"The Board of Revenue was impressed with the merits of this proposition," said Mr. Brown, "since it is designed to serve schools and people in all parts of the county. While the Board is limited in revenue and it is hard to find funds for things of this kind outside our regular budget of expenses, yet the members felt that this matter was of such worth as to warrant our extra effort in providing the funds requested."

"With the invasion of Holland, Belgium, and Luxembourg, the war has entered a phase which will inevitably and at once bring widespread and appalling suffering to millions of helpless men, women and children. In order to inaugurate widespread relief measures the American Red Cross is at once launching a campaign for a minimum war relief fund of ten million dollars. Your chapter quota is $400.00. Please at once mobilize the entire leadership of your chapter and community in order that your quota may be raised and exceeded without delay. Chapters may retain fifteen per cent of collections to cover their local war relief expenses. Letter of instructions follows.—Norman H. Davis."

Directed toward raising the chapter quota of $400, Miss Brooke states that someone will be appointed in each locality in the county to receive money from anyone who wishes to make a contribution.

Jarman Returns From Trip To National Capital

Congressman Pete Jarman returned to the District Saturday after spending the greater part of the week in Washington. While there he voted, spoke for, and used his influence for the $212,000,000 appropriation for parity payments during the next fiscal year.

This vote had been delayed by House farm leaders because it was felt that Mr. Jarman's influence was needed. A telegram to Mr. Jarman of May 1, from Clarence Cannon, chairman House Managers, stated, "Am deferring agricultural appropriation bill until after your primary. You have rendered such valuable service on farm legislation and especially on parity payments we will need you in the fight and will await your return."

The report passed the House by a close vote and after attending to other official business for people of the District, Mr. Jarman returned Saturday.

The Congressman was given a rousing reception when he appeared on the floor of the House, his colleagues having been informed of his substantial lead over his nearest opponent. Mr. Jarman expressed his deep appreciation to the voters for their approval of his record and also paid tribute to the excellent work done by his friends during his absences from campaign activities due to the pressure of business in Washington.

He received 46.7 per cent of the total vote, a clear majority in four counties and a substantial lead in two others.

Mr. Jarman said, "I look forward with pleasure to seeing as many as possible during the runoff campaign but those whom I fail to see will realize, I know, that it is impossible to personally contact everyone in eight counties in such a short time."

"Since no issue exists, either real or implied, except our capability to serve them, I am confident that our people will give me an even more impressive vote of confidence on June 4 than the fine expression accorded me last Tuesday. I shall ever be grateful indeed and shall continue to serve our District and our nation faithfully."

Town Truck Will Be Ready On Tuesday to Collect All Rubbish Says Official Announcement

Mayor Acker has proclaimed next week, beginning May 20, as Montevallo's annual clean-up week. He urges all community groups and civic bodies to name committees or designate leaders to get everybody interested and organized for an efficient and effective campaign.

Everyone is urged to take a full start on next Monday toward assembling all rubbish and trash to be discarded. "Sweep up, rake up, pick up, pile up," urges the Mayor. "On the second day, Tuesday, the town's truck will be ready to haul your trash away."

"We want our town to have a clean and attractive appearance for the many visitors who will come here from all over the state for college commencement. The impressions which will be made on our visitors will be for good or otherwise, just as we make them by our town's appearance when they come."

"We have had splendid success in our clean-up campaigns of the past. We must busy ourselves to do so again this time."

The Mayor appeals to the boys and girls of the school groups and the Scouts to lend their usual active and effective cooperation in the movement.

"Maybe you plan to paint and otherwise refurbish your place this summer," said the Mayor. "If so, start it next week. Even if not completed by commencement, it will show a good appearance and give a good impression to our visitors."

Remember, the clean-up is to start next Monday. The garbage truck will be ready to start hauling Tuesday.

a plus value of cooking electrically *

WHEN you begin cooking electrically, your average rate for electric service is immediately lowered.* Consequently, most persons who begin cooking electrically find the cost much less than they expected—and so they tell their friends that electricity really is cheap in Alabama—for lighting, cooking, refrigeration, water heating, ventilation and dozens of other uses.

A small down payment places an automatic electric range in your kitchen—dresses it up—makes it more modern. Balance may be paid in small amounts over a period of months.

WE CHALLENGE "THE FRIENDS OF BILLY PARTLOW"

In an advertisement appearing in this week's paper, "Shelby County Friends of Billy Partlow" make and infer some statements to which The Times desires to lay down a positive challenge.

Saying "the Sixth District will no longer tolerate inactivity in Congress," the advertisement infers that Pete Jarman, present representative, has been inactive. We do not believe this is true, and we do not think the "friends of Billy Partlow" believe it is true.

The Sixth District has not suffered from inactivity in Congress since Pete Jarman succeeded Buck Oliver. Now, so far as we can see, those who constitute the "friends of Billy Partlow" are merely dancing to the very poor music that is discordantly played by "leaders" who are "hold-overs" from the old Oliver regime of inactivity in Congress. They are the ones who would have us believe that the sons of the Sixth District rise and set in Tuscaloosa and shed no rays of light or life over any other area of the District beyond the borders of Tuscaloosa County, nor in fact, out of the sound of the whistles of the industries of the Druid City itself.

They say "the Sixth District has suffered because of a lack of adequate, aggressive representation in Congress. They infer that the benefits offered through the federal government have not come to the Sixth District because our representative has not "aggressively presented the problems of the District."

If the people of Shelby County demand proof of Mr. Jarman's representation and aggressiveness in matters of benefits from federal government sources, ask our County Board of Revenue how Mr. Jarman has worked with them in the various things of this kind they have undertaken. Ask the County Board of Education and the Superintendent of Education how Mr. Jarman has worked with them in federal aid matters of importance to our schools.

We ask "the friends of Billy Partlow in Shelby County" to point out the New Deal projects in Shelby County which Mr. Jarman failed to support and failed to work for, and in which he failed to give his assistance to the sponsors of the projects?

"We discriminate against ourselves when we send deadwood to Congress," they say. We agree. Furthermore, we insist that we would equally discriminate against ourselves if we send green, unseasoned "wood" like Mr. Partlow to Congress when we have the strong, sound, and seasoned kind that is available in Pete Jarman.

The majority of the voters of the Sixth District will not be misled by the unwarranted statements and inferences of Mr. Partlow and his lieutenants. No, we will not, even in face of Mr. Partlow's own statement in which he avers that he intended (regardless of the cost and the methods, we presume) to get the office when he started out for it.

We confess we have seen evidences of his pre-determination, and moreover, some of these evidences were not wholesome. It may as well be said now that some of the methods of the Partlow vote-getting schemes have been pronounced as repulsive to many who had been unwittingly drawn into his camp. They will spew him out of their mouths and will vote on June 4 for a congressman whose methods of getting re-elected are as clean and honorable as the unassailable record he has made while representing us at Washington for the past four years.

You will lose your bet, Mr. Partlow, because you deserve to lose by every possible comparison between you and Pete Jarman.

JUDGE WALKER

Probate Judge L. C. Walker requests The Times to express for him his sincere thanks and appreciation to the people of Shelby County for the splendid vote of confidence and approval which he received in the recent primary.

"I have served our county almost six years," he said, "and it is with much gratification that my record is such as to cause my people to give me another term without opposition. I wish my friends to know that your fine spirit of cooperation in the past years has been the means of making it possible for me to serve our county with the success that I have made. I appreciate your friendliness and your goodness to me. It is my sincere hope that I may continue to enjoy your cordiality and that I may reward you with a fuller measure of honest and efficient public service."

Jarman Receives Majority In Four Counties Of District

Following is the analysis of the Sixth District Congressional vote in the primary of May 7:

Pete Jarman carried six of the eight counties, the two others, Greene and Tuscaloosa being the homes of his three opponents.

Bibb, Chilton, Perry and Sumter Counties all rolled up majorities for Jarman, the Congressman obtaining a majority in half the number of counties comprising the Sixth District.

Jarman received 46.76 per cent of the total vote in the District. He lacked only 776 votes of obtaining a clear majority, a lead of 1,735 votes over the nearest candidate. The majority for Jarman outside of Tuscaloosa County was 1,054.

In other words, he polled 1,346 more votes than all of the other candidates combined outside of the home counties of his opponents. A majority of nearly 5 to 1 was accorded Jarman in his home county, Sumter. Partlow had a majority of 218 votes in his home county, Tuscaloosa. There were 1780 votes polled in Sumter and Jarman beat Partlow 1161. In Tuscaloosa there were 8,270 votes and Partlow led Jarman only 1,412 votes. Jarman led in 13 Tuscaloosa County boxes, and tied one other. Partlow's own box (Rex's at Tuscaloosa) gave Jarman nearly 300 votes, with about 400 for Partlow.

Official results by counties follow:

Sherlock Attends Road Meeting In Washington

Montgomery, Alabama—Highway Director Chris. J. Sherlock was in Washington, D. C. last week, attending the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the American Roadbuilders Association, of which he is a member.

While there Director Sherlock urged all members of the Alabama delegation in Congress to actively support the pending bill to appropriate $200,000,000 of Federal aid to the States for road building. This bill provides $125,000,000 for "regular" Federal aid, $25,000,000 for secondary of "feeder" roads, and $50,000,000 for grade crossing elimination.

Alabama's share of the money, to be spent in 1942-43, will be in excess of $4,000,000, or slightly more than 2 percent of the total amount. All must be matched by state funds, except that of the amount appropriated for grade crossing elimination, which will be a direct grant.

Federal-State matching of roads building funds being on a 50-50 basis, total amount made available for road construction in Alabama will exceed $8,000,000.

"Alabama can and will match every cent of prospective additional Federal aid," Director Sherlock stated.

County Observes Employment Week

National and state "Give Someone a Job Week" finds the people of the county busy carrying out the program in spirit and deed. Street banners, placards on posts and in windows, hand bills for the stores, homes and mail boxes have given everyone notice of the program. The pastors of the county made personal appeals to their congregations on National and State Employment Sunday, May 5, which bore fruit all over the county.

A partial follow-up of people referred for employment as of May 13 in Shelby County gives the following results: 110 workers, 12 industries, 48 employers served.

This is only the beginning for Shelby County, as several times this many people were referred to work during this period when the President of the United States and the Governor of Alabama pointed the way to this definite need of the nation and state to remember the "men over 45 and especially the war veterans," as well as countless others in need of employment, by calling special attention to one week, and thus reminding everyone that the State Employment Office is free to the employer and employee alike. To the Employment Office, every week is National and State Employment Week.

Chilton County, also a part of the territory of the Calera office, with only a part of Clanton contacted, has employed 126 workers in twelve industries serving fifty-nine employers. The State Employment office in this territory is managed by S. C. Patton, under the state directorship of Mr. C. F. Anderson, under Judge John D. Petree, head of the Department of Industrial Relations.

Those attending the meeting were Mesdames Appleton, Vaughan, Wills, Kennerly, Cooper, Bridges, and Misses Saylor and Barker.

Selma To Dedicate New Bridge At Impressive Ceremony

Selma, Ala.—With the opening of the new million dollar Edmund Winston Pettus bridge May 24 and 25, Selma and Central Alabama will experience the most spectacular celebration of its history. Besides the formal opening of the bridge, many events are being planned for the enjoyment of citizens, former residents, and visitors.

Foremost among these events is the beautiful historical pageant with a local cast of 600, which will be staged at Rowell Field twice each evening. With colorful pageantry this will portray the various modes of transportation across the Alabama river, beginning with the Indian and his canoe, progressing through the years to the present magnificent structure.

Governor Frank M. Dixon will attend with many other notables, including Ex-Governor Bibb Graves, Congressman S. F. Hobbs, members of public roads administration of Alabama, railroad officials and others.

Formal opening and christening of the new bridge, an historical parade, the Governor's luncheon at the Country Club, a boat ride on the Alabama, formal closing of the old bridge, athletic events, a barbecue, a street dance on the bridge and automobile tours to points of historical interest will be some of the attractive features.

A Queen's ball Friday evening, the 24th, will present a court of Central Alabama's loveliest young women as queens of their counties.

Following the two days of celebration, religious homecoming services will be held in all churches on Sunday, the 26th.

Great interest is being evinced throughout Alabama for this event and the largest crowd Selma has ever known is anticipated.

BILLY PARTLOW

The Sixth District Will No Longer Tolerate Inactivity In Congress

The legislative program of the federal government is designed to benefit the needy sections of our nation. The benefits of this program are open to all—if the representatives of the people intelligently and aggressively present the problems of their Districts.

The Sixth District has suffered because of a lack of adequate aggressive representation in Congress. The federal government does not discriminate against the Sixth District—we discriminate against ourselves when we send deadwood to Congress.

We call upon the people of the Sixth District to put an end to four years of lethargy. Send a man to Congress to represent all the people, the farmers, the laborers, the veterans, the professional men, the housewives, not just a chosen few. Send a man who will not wait for a bell or a telegram before acting.

Send Billy Partlow To Congress June 4th.

(Paid pol. adv by Shelby County friends of Billy Partlow)

To The Voters Of SHELBY COUNTY

Having just returned from Washington where I went to vote on an important measure before Tuesday's returns were complete, I will avail myself of my first opportunity to wholeheartedly thank you for your approval of my record and your expression of confidence. I am particularly grateful for the fine work voluntarily done in my behalf during my necessary absences.

It was fine indeed of the good people of Shelby to favor me with such a splendid lead and I will appreciate your continued support. You will be interested to know that your friendship and activity for me caused me to receive 46.76 per cent of the total vote of the District, to obtain a majority in four counties, a plurality in two, and to run my present opponent a close second in his home county.

I entertain only the friendliest attitude toward you who voted for my opponents. I am convinced that an overwhelming number of you will now join our ranks to contribute toward a very impressive majority on June 4. Until then I urge the continued energetic activity of all my friends.

Dean Nicolson's Career Marks Her As Leader In Education

The people of Montevallo are very interested just now in the career of the distinguished woman educator who comes to Alabama College May 27 to deliver the commencement address. Marjorie Hope Nicolson, dean of Smith College since 1929, national president-elect (and the first woman to hold that office in one hundred and sixty-four years) of Phi Beta Kappa, and professor of English at Smith, has a unique record as an executive, educator and a scholar.

Born in Yonkers, New York, for ty-five years ago, Dean Nicolson has had the widest experience in all phases of education in all parts of America and Europe. Her B. A. degree was from Michigan University. In 1937, twenty-three years after her first degree, her Alma Mater gave her an honorary D. Litt.

Ph. D. at Yale

Dean Nicolson was Fellow of both Johns Hopkins and Yale and took her Ph. D. at Yale. In addition to this varied and distinguished American training, she was one of the early Guggenheim Fellows in Europe where her acquaintance with foreign scholars and her research bore rich fruits. Her humorous and "human" stories of experiences in the course of her researches season her achievement with wit and flavor; for she has an unflinching sense of humor and of the human side of her profession.

"Conway Letters" (Yale Press, 1930) is a part of the game she "bagged" in her researches in the tangled thickets of seventeenth-century life and thought. It is a story of a great house in England and of the learned lady Conway, of the thinkers and scholars, of the quacks and rakes of the great world, continental and English, who gathered there. Her fine detective work in the discovery of long-lost letters and long-lost clues to romance and intrigue makes delightful reading. Dean Nicolson, in fact, has a detective's mind and is one of the learned people who consume modern detective stories in the small hours of the morning. She has written wittily about the present-day detective story in the Atlantic Monthly.

Science Alters Life

Dean Nicolson contends that science, as we of the twentieth century know it, began as early as the seventeenth century to alter life, literature and the social values. It made that century the first in our modern world. Study along these lines has been the Dean's constant work and has been recorded in a flood of special articles which appear as mysteriously as the night-blooming cereus. When she gets time to work on them no one knows, for she administers a busy office as Dean of the college, teaches a large undergraduate and graduate course in the effect of science on the imagination, functions on a variety of educational and scholarly boards, which have included the Guggenheim Foundation, Phi Beta Kappa, Modern Language Association, and lectures all over the country.

Studies Open New Vistas

Yet these studies, blowing freshness into the worn pathways of the past, opening new vistas, re-casting the shape of life and thought, continue to appear. They throw light upon our own age. When the telescope and the microscope came in, during the seventeenth century, they directly and indirectly, changed man's thinking about himself, society and the universe. They made over his outlook upon the world. Today, science and imagination are still making our world, or breaking it—who shall say which? The titles of some of these studies reveal their nature: "The Microscope and English Imagination," 1935; "A World in the Moon," 1937; "Swift's Flying Island" (with Nora Mohler) 1937; the first "electrical" flying machine "Navia Aeria of B. Zamagna" (with Mary B. McElwain), 1939; "English Almanacs and the New Astronomy," 1939.

These studies illustrate the breaking down of the old water-tight compartments of the academic world. Dean Nicolson had as her collaborators in the undertakings, in one case a member of the classics department, and in another a member of the physics department. This practice, at long last, marks the beginning of a sensible approach to life whether past or present. The dominant ideas of any period of man's history seep into all phases of thinking and acting. To pigeon-hole literature away from science, philosophy, politics, art, history, is to be utterly false to the spirit of any time; the old academic divisions were false and the new educational trends must favor these broader, interrelated points of view, if education and research are to survive. The fact that Dean Nicolson is one of the leaders in this new way of regarding past and present promises much for her far-reaching effect upon American education. As a lecturer in the summer sessions at Minnesota, Chicago and Johns Hopkins, she has had the experience of teaching both men and women and thus has tested the effect of her educational ideas widely.

Her famous undergraduate and graduate courses in Smith College evoke original effort and fresh thinking in her students. They feel the various and contrasting color of her mind. Her wit combined with a relentless accuracy of detail makes conferences and committees both effective and humorously bearable. Under the minutiae of a particular situation, she carries a lucid sense of the great ends of education.

College Students Take Part In Archery Meet

Alabama College girls this week are participating in the National Inter-Collegiate Telegraphic Archery Meet, directed by Miss Edythe Saylor of the health and physical education department. In this type of meet the official scorer wires the highest scores to the National Intercollegiate Archery Association in Boston. Entrants shoot a Columbia round, consisting of 24 arrows shot at fifty yards, forty yards, and thirty yards.

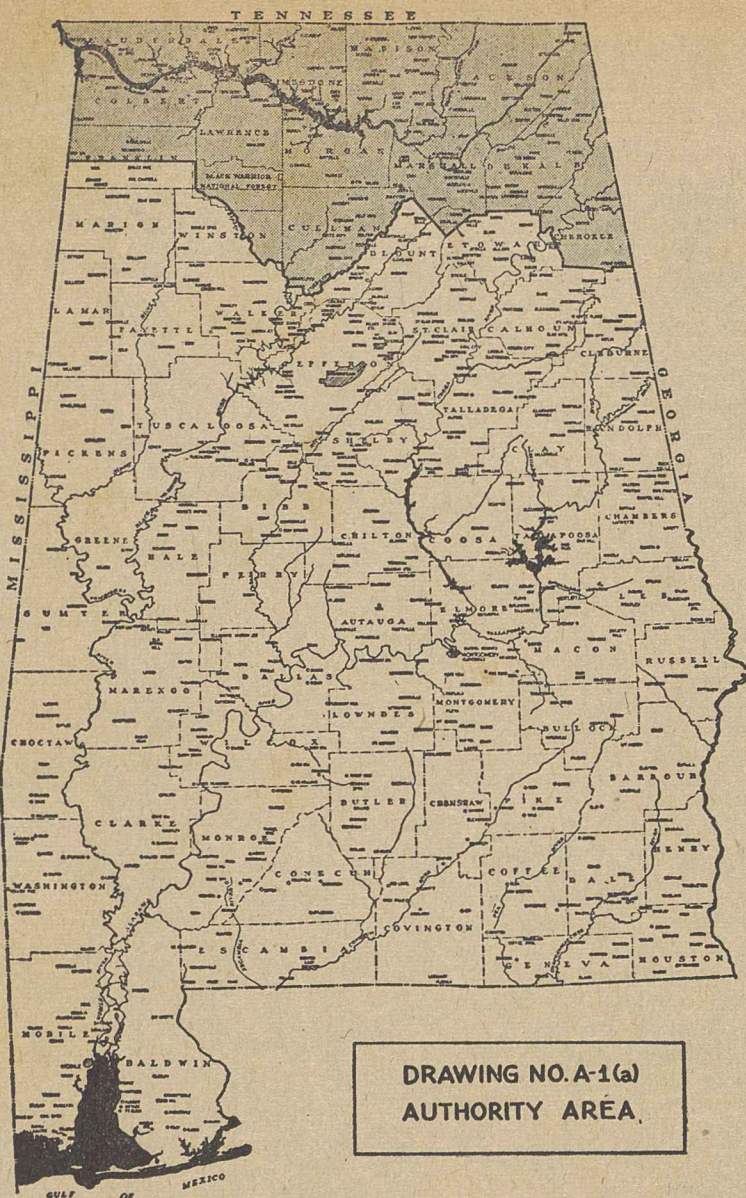

This year's Alabama College champion was Gwen Tittle of Townley who shot 413. Others ranking high were: Pat Bozenhard, Birmingham, 364; Mittie Byrd Dismukes, Holtville, 358; Edna Mae Landrum, Quinton, 349; Lorena Atkinson, Newton, 336; Elizabeth McCarn, Brilliant, 332; Agnes Chapman, New Market, 323; Annie Virginia Martin, Andalusia, 319; Benjie Frank Owens, Ashford, 318; Louise Thomas, Sheffield, 311; Mattie Sue Oden, Hartselle, 301; Frances Johnston, Chapman, 291; Dorothy Dowling, Newton, 289; Clara Lynn, Greenville, 289; Cornelia Smith, Selma, 287; Mildred Nettles, Arlington, 286; Caroline Liles, Brewton, 284.

Approximately 200 students are taking archery this year at Alabama College, according to Miss Saylor.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY CIRCLES HOLD JOINT MEETING

Circles 1 and 2 of the Baptist Missionary Society held a joint meeting at the home of Mrs. J. L. Bridges Monday afternoon, May 13. Each circle held a short business meeting before the program. The first and second chapters of the book, "Believers and Builders in Europe," were reviewed by Dr. Fred B. Pearson in a very interesting way.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mesdames R. A. Reid, H. G. Parker, A. J. Wood, L. C. Horn, Walter Mulkey, N. R. Phillips, C. L. Meroney, Mary L. Hare, F. H. Frost, Edwin Allen, Cooper Shaw, P. D. Pendleton, J. P. Thomas, R. F. Ray, Reese Woolley, Edna Heath, W. J. Mitchell, W. F. Tidwell, F. P. Givhan, Miss Mae Woods and Dr. Fred B. Pearson.

The shaded portion of the above map indicates the "Authority Area"—in which facilities of Alabama Power Company are being sold to TVA, municipalities, and cooperatives.

Farmers To Visit County Dairies

Time—1:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 21. Place — J. Frank Baker's dairy farm near Dargin. From Baker's farm we will go to W. J. Bailey's farm near Dogwood, and from there to the college dairy farm at Montevallo. At this meeting we want to visit the permanent pasture at Baker's dairy, the oat and crimson clover crop, the crimson clover seed crop and the dairy herd. On the visit to Bailey's farm we will see his work stock production project, including his brood mares, mule colts and Percheron stallion. At the college dairy we will visit the white Dutch clover pasture and the college dairy herd.

This meeting is of special importance to all farmers in improving their pastures as well as improving their dairy cows and producing their own work stock. Business men are urged to join in this meeting and see what is being done.

We want to urge farmers and business men to plan car loads or bus loads and attend this important meeting. — A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent.

Poppy Day Will Be Observed Here Next Saturday

Call for every veteran of the World War and for all other patriotic citizens to wear a memorial poppy on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 25 was issued to-day by W. M. Wyatt, Commander of the Hendrick Hudson Post of the American Legion. The Commander's message stated:

"Twenty-two years ago the American forces in France were beginning a series of great battles which brought victory and peace to the United States and to the world. In those battles 50,000 young Americans gave their lives, and many thousand more were wounded and disabled. Those sacrifices assured our country the peace, freedom and democracy we have enjoyed since 1918.

"Bright red poppies studded the fields where these men fell and were the only floral tribute on their bare battle graves. In tribute to them we wear the poppy, their memorial flower, on Poppy Day each year. This year when world events have brought home to us forcefully the value of our American heritage, the poppy will have increased meaning to America. Wearing that little flower will show that we still are devoted to the ideals for which our dead gave their lives so gallantly twenty-two years ago.

"I am calling upon every member of The American Legion to wear a poppy on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 25, and I urge all other citizens to show their patriotic remembrance for the dead in like manner. While remembering the dead, do not forget those who sacrificed health and strength in the nation's service and the families left in need by war death or disability. Contribute for your flower as liberally as your means will allow and help make the poppy a symbol of hope for the living as well as honor for the dead."

Conference Leader

MISS HELEN SHELL

Career Conference To Be Held Here

Pictured here is Miss Helen Shell of Chicago who will be the principal speaker at the Student Career Conference for high school girls which Alabama College is sponsoring June 26-29. These and other important questions will be covered through counseling based on test, through talks by the leaders, and through informal round-table discussions presided over by Alabama women already experienced in the several fields. There will also be motion picture presentations of career possibilities open to women.

The recreational facilities of the College, including the tennis courts and the swimming pool will be available for the use of the conference members. A part of each day will be reserved for recreation which will include a reception and a picnic at the College Camp House.

Heads Summer School

MISS ANNE HOLDFORD

Construction Of New Bessemer Road Under Way

The editor of The Times had a most interesting adventure last Friday. I went with Chairman W. L. Brown, clerk Cecil Duke and members Nash and Tatum, of the County Board of Revenue, to look over the WPA road projects that are in progress in the Tatum and Nash districts. In the party also were Mr. Morgan, local director of WPA and Mr. Hoyt Blalock, recent nominee for the Columbiana district's member of the Board of Revenue.

After getting together at Alabaster Tom Nash gave us a Coca Cola at his drug store and we took off to see the work that is in progress on the new road which will connect Montevallo and Bessemer.

We observed the general structure of the new road north from Maylene. Prompted by the trained engineering eye of director Morgan, we saw how many curves have been eliminated; dozens of rock and concrete culverts have been constructed to take the place of wooden bridges; places where the road used to be constantly menaced by overflowing creeks have been eliminated, the road rerouted and placed on an all weather and flood proof basis.

Presently we came to the biggest and most important part of the job—construction of the sixty-odd thousand dollar steel and concrete bridge across Cahaba River. This structure is in full progress with the piers being made of concrete and native stone. The stone is secured at a place on Trigger Creek where the new road is being cut through the gap of the ridge to enter Jefferson County.

The new bridge is down the river half a mile from the old one. Its location will re-route the road to put it surely and permanently above high water, and shorten the distance. (Continued on back page)

War Relief Quota For County Is $400

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Montevallo is sponsoring the Red Cross drive to raise funds in this community for the relief of European war sufferers.

The quota assigned to Shelby County in the present drive is $400.

Never in the history of the Red Cross has such a stupendous catastrophe fallen upon the people of the world, and no one can question the great need for money. As long as the people of America continue to enjoy peace and freedom, it is the duty of every citizen to contribute all that he can to give any possible relief to Europe's suffering people. It is to be hoped that when representatives of the Business and Professional Women's Club call upon the citizens of Montevallo they will contribute liberally to this worthy cause.

Plans Are Announced For Summer School

Miss Anne Holdford of New York Will Direct The Summer Workshop Program

The sessions divided into two terms, running from June 19-July 17 and from July 18-August 21, will feature First Annual Reading and Speech Conference June 17-21 and a Summer Workshop program built around the principles of the Progressive Education philosophy. The reading and speech conference will attract educators from all parts of the state who will give attention to the new and revolutionary methods of correcting reading and speech difficulties in the classroom. Many modern mechanical aids, such as voice recording, will be demonstrated.

99 Per Cent Of Alabama Parolees Making Good

Montgomery, Alabama— "Ninety nine per-cent of Alabama's prison parolees are making good," said Mr.

Robert M. Hill, member of the State Pardon and Parole Board, speaking recently at the Southeastern State Parole Board meeting in Biloxi, Miss. "Of the 825 parolees released by the non-political board during the 7 months it has been in operation, only 8 have given cause to be returned to prison," Judge Hill revealed.

The new Pardon and Parole Board, upon taking office, found that 1,525 of the state's 7,600 convicts were under 20 years of age.

according to Judge Hill, who commented that "under the old pardon system, governors had to give attention to an average of 20 applications for pardon or parole each working day," and obviously it was "well-nigh impossible" to make a sufficient study of each case.

Under the new setup the governor acts only in capital cases. He may commute death sentences, or refuse to do so.

EIGHTH YEAR OF THE TIMES

With this issue The Times begins its eighth year of publication. Mrs. Olive Harrison started the paper here in 1933. The present publisher bought the business June 1, 1935.

As we begin our new year we pause to express our thanks to the people of Montevallo and Shelby County who have supported the paper so generously and thereby made possible what we consider a fair degree of successful operation and community service.

We are full of hope for the future. We are not satisfied with The Times although we are proud of it. It will grow and become better as the years go by. It will continue to serve Montevallo and Shelby County in its fullest capacity.

Your continued friendship, interest and support will be appreciated.

APPEAL FOR RELIEF FUNDS MADE BY RED CROSS HEAD

Miss Myrtle Brooke, chairman of the Shelby County Chapter of the Red Cross, has received the following telegram in regard to war relief funds for Europe's sufferers:

"With several million men locked in mortal combat on French and Belgian soil, the relief needs of Belgian and French people are reaching staggering proportions. Already five million pitiful refugees are clogging every road into central and southern France, trying to escape bombing and strafing from airplanes. Our representatives in France report thousands dying by roadsides of wounds, fright and hunger. American Red Cross must rush relief of every kind if these innocent people are to be saved. We are expecting millions of dollars in money and supplies but we need more and bigger contributions to carry on. Cannot urge upon you too strongly need for prompt action if we are to befriend these sorely tried victims of brutal warfare. We count upon you to reach and oversubscribe your goal within shortest possible time. Every day's delay means hundreds may die because we have not brought them aid in this, their saddest hour.—Norman H. Davis."

The Business and Professional Women's Club will handle the drive in Montevallo.

LARGE EGGS

We have all heard of the goose that laid the golden egg, but this is a case of a hen laying a giant egg. J. C. Fancher of Underwood brought two eggs to the Times office Tuesday Measuring 7 1/2 by 6 1/2 and 8 by 7 1/2. He says there's not a turkey on his place but we almost have our doubts after observing these eggs. Look again, J. C. you may have goose.

Poppies Ready For Sale Saturday

Bright red poppies, crepe paper replicas of the famous poppies of Flanders Fields, fill Legion headquarters here to day as the women of the American Legion Auxiliary prepare for the annual observance of Poppy Day on Saturday, May 25.

The poppies received from Tuscaloosa Hospital where they were made by disabled World War veterans. They show the patient and devoted work of these men who made them in remembrance of their departed comrades. All hand-made, the flowers vary slightly according to the skill of the veterans.

"Poppy-making means much to disabled veterans," explained Mr. W. M. Wyatt, Poppy Day chairman. "For those in the hospitals, it provides and interesting occupation to fill the long hours of illness and convalescence. It has high value as occupational therapy, helping the men speed their recovery. It gives them the encouraging experience of again earning money and of being able to send money home to help support their families".

How the Sixth District Can Help America in the Perilous Days Ahead

PETE JARMAN

War clouds hang menacingly over the entire world. The tangible, imminent dangers of the foreign situation were brought closer to us by President Roosevelt's address to the Congress and the American people. Now, more than at any time in recent years, can the people of our District best serve themselves and the nation by retaining as your representative a man who has the experience, the balanced mind and the real desire to serve you, and through you, the nation.

As a veteran of the World War, I know what horrors of armed conflict can mean, and I intend, as your Representative in Congress, to exert every human means to protect this county and keep it in secure, honorable peace. My experience and my membership on the Foreign Affairs Committee have afforded me the opportunity to do effective work for peace, and I have consistently advocated a strong national defense system as insurance against attack. Last fall when this country was in danger of being drawn into the European conflict because of laws inadequate to cope with the situation, I worked as a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee in revising and passing the Neutrality Bill, designed to keep America out of war. I made several speeches on the floor of the House, advocating the adoption of our revised bill, and my work on this committee prompted an invitation by the National Broadcasting Company to speak over a nation-wide hook-up.

BUT THE JOB HAS ONLY JUST BEGUN. Even now tanks rumble over neutral countries; innocent people are drawn into the maelstrom; lives are sacrificed; mothers' tears are shed over maimed bodies of sons and fathers.

No war resolution can come to the House for a vote without the approval of the Foreign Affairs Committee; further legislation to protect this nation's interests will be drawn up by this committee and steered through the House by its members; additional laws designed to keep this nation out of the conflict that now rages will be prepared by our committee members.

You, the people of the Sixth District, share both the honor and the responsibility of my membership on the Foreign Affairs Committee. You share the honor because it is now the most important in the House. You share the responsibility to the nation to keep the experienced, careful, safe membership of this committee intact.

In this day of terrible uncertainty when, even as this is written, plans may be under way for a continuous Congressional session on war problems, I ask your support, your active efforts and your vote in returning me to Congress. I promise to remain worthy of your confidence in these perilous times.

Respectfully your friend,

PETE JARMAN

Local Women Elected State Business Women's Club Officers

The Montevallo Business and Professional Women held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Stanley Mahan. Mrs. Ashley Jeter, newly elected president of the local club, presided for the first time. Mayor Acker led a lively discussion on "Our Own Government". The program also featured a very interesting report on the state convention held May 17-19 at Anniston, Alabama. The following members represented the club at this meeting: Dr. Minnie Steckel, Dr. Hallie Farmer, Miss Rochelle Rodd Gachet, Mrs. Ashley Jeter, Miss Lowrie Turner. The Montevallo Club is justly proud of the results of the state meeting because now they have two members who will serve as state officers for the coming year. The affairs of the club will be most capably handled during the ensuing year by Dr. Minnie L. Steckel, state President. Miss Lelah Brown, local president during the year 1938-39, will serve as corresponding Secretary.

The following is quoted from the Anniston Times and indicates the place of respect which Dr. Steckel has won in the state:

"Over the past few years Dr. L. parts of Alabama because of her numerous speaking engagements before local clubs of the Business and Professional Women and many other organizations. One note has characterized her speeches, and that her repeated insistence that the women work out an effective technique for making their particular interest articulate. She is constantly signing petitions of one sort or another, or passing a resolution lending an endorsement to this movement or that. However she feels that such activity does not reach maximum effectiveness unless the women engages in doing them are also VOTING citizens. In her research and in her speeches Dr. Steckel has proved again and again that the success women in obtaining their ends correlated to their voting strength. In addition to voting is Dr. Steckel's belief that women could exercise their full power in citizenship in the courts, as owners and executives in the world, and in her fields of activities which unfortunately have been regarded as exclusive positions of men.

Attention Called To Malaria Problem

Pointing out that 6,986 cases of malaria were reported in Alabama last year, including 45 from Shelby County, Dr. E. F. Sloan, Health Officer of Shelby County, called attention this week to the seriousness of the malaria problem in this part of the country.

"Year in and year out, malaria is said to afflict more Alabamians than any other disease known to medical science," he declared. "The so-called 'malaria season' usually begins about April or May and continues until fall. From month to month during this period, there is usually a rapid increase both in the incidence of the disease and in the number of those who succumb to it. In order that the health department may have as accurate a picture as possible of the prevalence of this disease in our county, practicing physicians are urged to report promptly all of their cases and also to make free use of our state laboratory facilities for the more accurate diagnosis of this disease."

Dr. Sloan urged that landowners in the community cooperate in the launching of drainage projects aimed at reducing the breeding places of malaria-transmitting mosquitoes.

Mouton Speaks For Jarman

Among the developments of the Congressional campaign was a chance radio talk delivered in Tuscaloosa recently by Congressman Robert Mouton of Louisiana. As he passed through Tuscaloosa en route to Louisiana someone saw his Congressional automobile tag and when he discovered that Mr. Jarman was there he was anxious to locate him.

Later, he voluntarily requested time on the Tuscaloosa radio station WJRD and made a speech in Mr. Jarman's behalf. He cited the important work of the Alabama Congressman on the Foreign Affairs Committee and urged the people to return him to Congress in order that his good work for the nation's security might be continued.

"MY BREAD and BUTTER"

RETAIL beer dealers have their troubles when inconsiderate patrons seek to violate ABC laws prohibiting sale to persons visibly intoxicated.

When this situation arose recently in a North Alabama beer outlet, the owner tactfully told the patron:

"I know you wouldn't like for me to make you lose your job. Well, this business is my job. It's my bread and butter. If I sell you beer when you come here visibly intoxicated, I'll lose my license. And that means lose my job. I know you wouldn't want to do that to me."

That type of retailer deserves your patronage. Help us in our "clean up or close up" campaign by refraining from asking retail beer dealers to violate the ABC law. Thanks!

New Dam Is Dedicated At Ceremony In Tuscaloosa

Dedication of the new $3,500,000 lock and dam at Tuscaloosa took place Saturday with about 2,000 interested visitors attending the dedication ceremonies. Speakers included Former Congressman W. B. Oliver Geo. K. Little, Col. Roy Parks G. E. Calloway and Congressman Pete Jarman. Bruce Shelton, publisher of the Tuscaloosa News, was master of ceremonies.

Mr. Little, described by the master of ceremonies as an "unsung hero," has long been a leader in the river development in Alabama. He paid tribute to Congressman Jarman's work on river matters and praised his devotion to the welfare of the people of the Sixth District. He cited Mr. Jarman's recent vote on one of his trips to Washington during the primary campaign for a measure to promote river developments.

Mr. Shelton pointed to the Congressman's interest in this dam and said that while appropriations were made during the tenure of Congressman Oliver, Mr. Jarman had contributed materially toward this important work.

Former Congressman Oliver said that the years he served the District were among his happiest and he was proud of the assistance the new lock and dam would give to Warrior River traffic.

Congressman Jarman has been active during the past week contacting friends and supporters in the District in behalf of his run-off campaign. It is reported that the voters, at this time, are particularly interested in his work on the Foreign Affairs Committee and point to his effective efforts last fall in revising and steering through the House the present Neutrality Bill. Those interested in the foreign situation consider it imperative that the Sixth District render a distinct service to the nation by retaining Congressman Jarman by a decisive majority on June 4th.

Congressman Jarman is the only member from Alabama on this important committee and it is to be expected that his rank will be considerably increased during the next term of Congress. It is through this committee that a war resolution would be approved if it went to the house for a vote, and measures designed to protect this nation's interests will be drawn up and steered through the House by the members of this committee.

Bessemer Road

tance from Fallston to the county line about three miles.

Beyond the river from the new bridge we saw the huge graders cutting down hills and filling hollow along a hitherto uncharted route to give the road a steady curve and a reasonable grade all the way from the river to the gap at Trigger Creek.

This new road will be the third entrance by highway through Shelby County into Birmingham. East Shelby enters by the Florida Short Route; central Shelby enters by the Bee Line Highway. The project under construction will give West Shelby an entrance to the Birmingham district from Montevallo to Bessemer.

There is every reason to believe that the new road will be adopted by the state. It is being constructed according to all engineering requirements necessary to meet state specifications.

West Shelby is proud of the work that is being done by the County Board of Revenue on this project. It will be of much value to the industries and the fine farm areas of this section all of which will afford a good highway connection.

From the new road we came across by Helena and visited the rock crushing plant of the state highway department on the Birmingham highway above Pelham. At present the plant is leased by the County Board of Revenue to produce crushed limestone for use on the county's roads. By this means the Board plans to crush during this summer a shortage of limestone that will enable them to keep up the county's roads for many months in the future.

The WPA is making possible all the major road improvement projects now under way in Shelby County. Not only is it giving employment to hundreds of people but also making possible many permanent road improvements that will be of untold benefit to our people through the years to come. In sponsoring these projects our County Board of Revenue is carrying out a program of progress that will forever stand as a mark of honor to them.

Mrs. S. B. Brown and Mr. Warren Brown of Birmingham spent the week-end with relatives in Scottsboro.

Local 185 of the Retail Clerk's Union held its regular meeting Tuesday night, May 21 at the Legion Hut.

GIRL SCOUTS

The girl scouts of troop 3, had a delightful spend the night party Friday night, which was enjoyed by everyone. Miss Jane Allen could not be there so we had as our guest, Miss Lois Blake. Many plays were given, songs were sung, stunts were rendered and a Major Bowes program, in which all participated. After we had finished, in walked Mr. Coats, Ann Coats' father, with cups of ice cream for all.

Mrs. Vaughn had baked a big chocolate cake for us and they were delicious together. All had a splendid time. The girls present were: Ann Coats, Joyce Farlow, Betty Gaddy, Doris Ann Clemons, Betty Gravlee, Joyce Baker, Una Faye Davis, Alice Creel, Mildred Wooten, Majorie Shores, Margaret Kennerly and Catherine Bridges.

The next morning we cooked our breakfast and cleaned up the little house. This was our last Scout meeting until sometime in July.

The girl scouts have most sincerely enjoyed Mrs. A. W. Vaughn as leader and Miss Jane Allen as lieutenant. We thank you for a most enjoyable years work, but it was

Mr. Thomas talked to his guests informally, relating some very interesting historical facts about his company and its long years of operation at Aldrich. (We expect to have a complete reproduction of his speech for next publication.)

Mrs. Mary M. McCoy, dean of residence at Alabama College responded to Mr. Thomas' remarks. She told very touchingly of her acquaintance with Darius from the time he wore "knee britches" and through his active, useful and influential citizenship in Birmingham, down to the present time. Her appraisal of the character of the man was a beautiful tribute to him who heads the greatest industry in our community.

We sensed a little flutter in the heart of Darius as he gratefully and humbly acknowledged the kind references of his lifelong and beloved friend. No doubt, had we been a little nearer to where he was sitting we could have seen the teardrops that trickled down his cheek.

A spokesman for the Civic Club attempted to express to Mr. Thomas and his company the appreciation of the group for this splendid manifestation of his cordiality and interest in promoting the things of mutual concern, physically and spiritually of the two neighboring "villages" Montevallo and Aldrich.

Troop Six had a very good meeting and as enthusiastic a one as has been all year. We had a picnic out of doors and had a grand time eating hot-dogs, potato chips, salad, lemonade and marshmallows at the fireplace in Miss Reasoner's and Miss Eastman's back yard. Everyone reported on an assignment to bring something from an other country. Our present plans include informal meetings during the summer.

Legion Auxiliary Observes Mother's Day

The American Legion Auxiliary met last Thursday afternoon, in the home of Mrs. P. D. Pendleton, president for its regular monthly business meeting.

Plans for Annual Poppy Day, which is to be observed Saturday, May 25, were discussed during the afternoon.

Mrs. Baumgartner had charge of the program, which was presented informally, on the subject, "Home and Mother." She read Henry Van Dyke's "A Home Song," "Joyce Kilmer's "The House with Nobody in It," Eudora S. Bumstead's "The Quest," "Home, Sweet Home," and Josephine Rice Creelman's "My Mother."

The honor guest for the afternoon was Mrs. Hooker, beloved mother of Mrs. Pendleton and Miss Sallie Hooker.

A delightful social hour was spent with the hostess during which delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Hooker was presented with a little gift as a Mother's Day token, and Mrs. Jeter won the attractive attendance prize.

Strengthen Your Congress

This year the people of the United States elect a President. We don't know who he will be, but we do know that he can be successful only if he has a strong Congress to work with him. A strong President can accomplish nothing if we have a weak Congress; a weak President's mistakes can be prevented by a strong Congress.

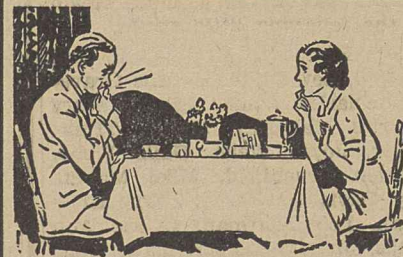

The problems of the nation and of the Sixth District require the full time services of an able, alert, aggressive representative. We know Billy Partlow to be such a man. We know him to be a determined fighter, a true friend, and a staunch advocate of Peace. His work for farm legislation, for education, for national defense, and for the public welfare will always be uppermost in his mind. He will secure committee appointments which offer opportunities for service to his District and not chairmanships of minor committees which are of no value to his people. His appointments will be made from qualified voters of the Sixth District who are not members of his own family.

Record Class Graduates At College Here

Miss Loula Dunn and Dr. Peck Receive Honorary Degrees At Commencement Exercises

With commencement exercises in Palmer Auditorium Monday morning, at which Dean Majorie Hope Nicolson of Smith College delivered the principal address, Alabama College concluded its 44th annual commencement exercises.

In addition to the degrees awarded to the graduates, President Arthur Fort Harman bestowed honorary degrees of doctor of laws on two distinguished Alabama Women, Miss Loula Dunn, commissioner of the state department of public welfare, and Dr. Willena Peck, for 25 years the college physician.

The address of Dean Nicolson was broadcast by WAPI. The academic procession was played by the college orchestra under direction of York Kildea.

Following Dean Nicolson's address President Harman conferred degrees upon approximately 160 graduates, the largest group ever graduated by the college. Dr. Fred B. Pearson, of the Montevallo Baptist Church, pronounced the invocation and benediction. The academic recessional was played by Mr. H. D. LeBaron, head of the School of Music.

Parents, other relatives, friends, and the townspeople of Montevallo crowded the large Palmer Auditorium to its capacity for the exercises.

Four students were cited by the Dean's office to graduate with highest honors, having made an all-A record during their four-year course. They were; Miss Madie Belle Ward, Montevallo; Miss Birdie Margaret Moor, Georgiana; Miss Frances Page, Opp; Miss Ellen Preuit, Town Creek.

Brauer, First Grade Demonstration Teacher in Alabama College Summer Program for four years, Assistant; Dr. Gordon McCloskey, Alabama College, Assistant; and twelve demonstration teachers selected for their teaching ability and ability to work with experienced teachers.

Teaching on both the elementary and high school levels will be demonstrated. The demonstrations will be centered around which the professional work of the Workshop will revolve.

From June 17 to June 21 will be conducted the first annual conference on reading and speech problems or teachers and administrators of elementary schools, high schools and colleges.

The problem of reading disability has long loomed large on the educational horizon and has been attacked from many directions. Its psychological, physiological and pedagogical concomitants have been

Methods Studied By Farmers On Tour Of County

Ninety-two Shelby County farmers met at Frank Baker's, Tuesday May 21st, to study the method of building good pasture and to see the results obtained from proper fertilization and seeding. Mr. Baker talked about 15 minutes giving the procedure he followed in building permanent pastures. In this talk he stressed the vital importance of clearing the land terracing and applying phosphate and lime. The new pasture he began developing in the fall of '39 gave the farmers a good picture of the pasture developments. Oats were sown the 1st of October and soon afterward a mixture of Dallis frass and white Dutch Clover was seeded. Previous to the sowing of oats this land received a heavy application of lime and phosphate. Lime was applied at the rate of one ton to the acre and phosphate at the rate of 300 pounds per acre.

The phosphate that was applied was tripple super-phosphate which is approximately 3 times stronger than super phosphate. At the time of the visit the oats were in the process of being cut and the White Dutch Clover and Dallis grass had obtained enough growth that the mower was cutting some of it along with the oats. There will be enough grazing on this ground to carry 1 cow per acre during the summer. Before the farmers left Mr. Baker's they had the privilege of seeing his dairy equipment, dairy cows and calves. A few minutes were taken up by Mr. Baker on the proper method of producing and growing the dairy cows. He then carried them to the field where he was growing the Crimson Clover for seed. While in the same field the farmers saw a pick-up power driven hay baling machine in operation.

After leaving Mr. Baker's farm the farmers met again at the farm of W. J. Bailey at Underwood. Here Mr. Bailey briefly discussed the vital importance of producing workstock for our farm needs. In his talk he also stressed the value of feeding and breeding so as to obtain a desirable work animal. Before leaving this farm Mr. Bailey showed us several one year old colts, pure bred beef cattle, Poland China hogs and his feed production demonstration.

The party then went to the Alabama College Dairy farm where they saw an excellent White Dutch Clover pasture. A number of other interesting things were seen, such as: the trench silo; the College dairy barn. There was much interest created in the possibilities of developing Shelby County pastures; feed producing for the home use; workstock production for the Shelby County farm and the development of better dairy cows.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Baptist Missionary Society met Monday afternoon at the church.

Mrs. J. P. Thomas led the program using as her subject, "Youth Steadfast for Christ." The Bible study for the afternoon was "God's Challenge to Youth."

Mrs. R. F. Ray, Mrs. M. P. Jeter, Mrs. Edwin Allen, and Mrs. F. H. Frost were on the program.

The president, Mrs. J. L. Bridges presided over the business session. The group planned to entertain the R. A's and the G. A's with a weiner roast this week.

No Real Issues In This Campaign Says Pete Jarman

In a very forceful address to an overflow audience at Greensboro Saturday afternoon, Congressman Pete Jarman challenged his opposition to cite any "real issues" of the congressional campaign, saying that the only issue before the people was the "ability of two men to serve you."

He declared that the promises of his opponent and his so-called "platform contained things which he has already voted for, worked for or spoken for on the floor of the House, or otherwise advocated. He implied indirectly that even if every promise and every claim of his opponent were fulfilled, the people of the Sixth District would not improve their position in the National capitol.

The Congressman outlined his work on the important Foreign Affairs Committee, of which he is the only Alabama member, stressing the responsibility of the people of the District to keep its experienced membership working for peace and American security.

"I have a strong responsibility to you," he said, "in seeing that your affairs in Washington are handled efficiently. I also have a responsibility to the nation as a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee to do everything in my power to keep us at a secure, honorable peace and to advocate measures for national defense to preserve America's integrity and wholesome form of government."

"You too, have a responsibility to the nation in seeing that your member of Congress is worthy of your trust and able to weigh with care and balance any measure that concerns the future security of our citizens."

Mr. Jarman has been a working member of the Foreign Affairs Committee which is now the most important in the house because of

POSTMASTERS NOMINATED

Washington—President Roosevelt Saturday submitted nominations for Alabama postmasterships as follows: Centre, Clyde H. West; Lexington, Annie M. Campbell; Montevallo, Robert A. Reid; Pine Hill, Oscar Sheffield; Plantersville, Stella K. Martin; Wetumpka, Frank Poole; Wilson Dam, Velma F. Murdock; York Maggie Winningham.

Efficient Hospital Service Is Rendered By Shelby Clinic Located At Wilsonville

Adequate medical service for the South calls for nearly twice the present number of physicians and three times the present number of hospital beds, Dr. W. C. Davison, dean of the School of Medicine of Duke University, recently told the Southern Institute for Hospital Administrators, meeting at the University.

In ten Southern states, Dr. Davison related, the average is one physician to 1,063 persons; in four northern states, the average is one to 719.

In the same Southern states there is one hospital bed for each 1,472 persons, while in the Northern states the average is one to 419.

Improvement of the situation in the South, in Dr. Davison's view, lies in the betterment of Southern Medical schools, expansion of Southern hospitals and the extension of educational opportunities for Southern rural youths.

Throughout the country there has been a recent awakening to need of additional medical service and hospital care.

Alabama ranks forty-first among the states in hospital facilities, having 2.1 hospital beds to each 1,000 of population. The national average is 3.4 per 1,000.

Surely no one can be familiarly with the need and not earnestly desire all feasible action to meet it.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

"Sacred Stillness" will be the subject of the sermon by Rev. Thomas M. Davis Sunday morning. Sunday School will meet at 10 o'clock. The High School group will have its regular meeting at 6:30 Sunday evening. You are cordially invited to attend these services.

Young People's Meet Begins Here Today

The annual Young People's Assembly of the North Alabama Conference, Methodist Church, begins at Alabama College to-day. The sessions will continue until June 5.

This event will bring to gether many hundreds of the leading young Methodists of the State, as well as a corps of lecturers, instructors and directors, who are prominent in the church.

The visitors in attendance at the Assembly will live in the college dormitories while here. Montevallo extends a cordial welcome to all of them, with hope that their stay here will be a pleasant and profitable one.

Study Club Observes National Music Week At Meeting

The Montevallo study club held its May meeting last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. C. Parnell with Mrs. J. P. Kelly as co-hostess. Mrs. Tidwell presided at the business meeting. The program for the afternoon centered around music and served as a celebration of National Music Week. Mrs. Jackson gave a most interesting review of "Men and Music", by Deems Taylor. Two girls from Alabama College, Misses Eva Love Wyatt and Frances Dauphin, played selections on the piano. One played an old classic and the other a modernistic selection.

A social hour was enjoyed by the following: Mesdames J. F. Baker, F. P. Givhan, W. S. Graylee, R. P. Holcombe, E. P. Hood, W. D. Jackson, M. C. Jeter, M. P. Jeter, J. P. Kelley, W. J. Kennerly, M. L. Orr, L. C. Parnell, G. P. Rogan, W. F. Tidwell, G. T. Towery, E. H. Wills and Mrs. John Reynolds of Arlington, Virginia, a guest of the afternoon.

The Birmingham News, Sunday, May 26, 1940.

With the present facts in mind it will be interesting to Shelby Countians to pause for appreciative consideration of the unselfish, efficient service being given by the skilled personnel of the Shelby Clinic located at Wilsonville.

Under the direction of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth N. Gould, hospitalization at home for the people of Shelby County is no longer a wishful dream but a beneficent reality.

Ideally situated the modernly equipped, brick structure stands in a picturesque setting of pine trees, encircled with the low-flung arms of the rolling country sides, over-arched with sweeping views of sky-magic, and pre-ved with gracious serenity of quiet space. Perhaps, it should be designated as a hospital-home where personal, intelligent, kind and capable service under the guidance of a Great Physician is extended to everyone who seeks and in the dark hours of dire need.

Shelby County has again been given a worthy privilege and an accountable opportunity.

Would it surprise you to know that since January 11, 1940, when the Clinic was opened to the public that Dr. Gould and his staff of co-workers have given aid to 66 patients.

Peace Theme Of Program At High School

Exercises Written and Planned By Class Members, With All Members Participating

Graduating exercises for a class of 69 members, of Montevallo High School, were held Tuesday morning at the Palmer Auditorium.

The program rendered was a distinct departure from the customary procedure of such occasions. Nevertheless, it was received as most impressive and provoking of serious thought by an audience that filled Palmer Auditorium to capacity.

The senior class realizing the importance of the subject of peace at this period in the world's history, developed the program of speech and music on this vital subject.

The script was prepared by Julian Hill, Warren Findley and John Orr. Every member of the class had a part in presenting it. The set was designed by John Orr, assisted by the art classes, and built by Wilbert Anderson, Warren Findley, Murray Harrison and Hubert Williamson in the shop. Miss Elizabeth Utterback was class adviser.

The narrators were Brewer Carpenter, Bobby Cleary, Julian Hill and John Orr.

The speech group included: Olivia Adams, Frances Bailey, Johnnie Barnes, Elizabeth Cunningham, Lallage Davis, Robert DeMent, Warren Findley, Tom Gentry, Rebecca Grady, Audrey Harrison, Marion Jones, Gertrude Kirkley, Dan Kirkpatrick, Mary Sue Lee.

Frances Lemley, Mattie Lessley, Louise Lovelady, Ester Lucas, Louise Milstead, Gertrude Simpson, Tommie Powell, Eloise Shores, Alma Stone, C. T. Wallace, Bessie Warren, Dorothy Warren, Hubert Williamson, Frances Wooley.

In the singing group were; Fred Adams, Robert Adams, Wilbert Anderson, Raymond Bearden, Clarence Blake, Thomas Champion, Sara Belle Coker, Roy Dailey, Lois Hanks, Murray Harrison, Elizabeth Ingram, Minnie Mae Kendrick.

Leonard Lawley, Genny McClen-don, Harold Miller, Francis Peterson, Tom Pilgreen, Bob Reybon, Willie Pearl Seale, David Smith, Vernon Smith, Sara Nell Stockdale, Frances Winslett, Olen Youngblood.

The orchestra was composed of Houston Adams, trombone; Anne Appleton, French horn; James Baker, baritone; James Battle, tuba; Eula Bridges, flute; Billy Rotenberry, trumpet; Jimmy Wyatt, trombone.

The students listed in the various parts above, constituted the entire class of 69 members. Diplomas were awarded them at the close of the exercises by the principal W. F. Tidwell. Each member, as his or her name was called by the principal, walked across the stage and smilingly received the "Sheepskin" from the hand of him who had guided them through their high school career.

Superintendent M. L. Orr spoke words of congratulations to the class members and thanks to all—parent teachers and students, for their contributions to a successful school year.

Benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. M. Shores, pastor of Montevallo Methodist church.

NEGRO ARRESTED FOR ROBBERY OF STORE

Chief C. M. Gardner and Deputy George Harrison arrested George Cottingham Jr., Friday afternoon, May 24, in connection with the robbery of Rogan's Store, which occurred about two weeks ago.

A bicycle, a watch and a quantity of pocket knives were recovered both in Birmingham and here.

Cottingham is being held in the Columbiana Jail under $1,000 bond.

Baskets of Alabama produced sweet potatoes

Dried Sweet Potatoes Make Good Feed For Livestock

Experiments by the Alabama Experiment Station have shown conclusively that an acre of sweet potatoes will produce two to three times as much feed as an acre of corn and now indicate that dehydrated or dried sweet potatoes make excellent livestock feed.

The experiments show that sweet-potato production can be stepped up to 200 to 400 bushels per acre in most sections of the State.

Average per acre yields on experimental plots over periods ranging from three to five years have been 336 bushels at Auburn, 231 bushels at Crossville, 314 bushels at Belle Mina, 422 bushels at Fairhope, 195 bushels at Monroeville, and 232 bushels on Greenville soil and 115 bushels on Norfolk soil at Prattville.

Ten steers fed sweet potato pulp, peanut hay, cottonseed meal and minerals last winter gained 1.99 pounds per steer per day compared with .88 pounds daily gain on similar steers receiving the above named without potato pulp. The potato fed steer showed a profit of $3.25 per steer above feed cost compared with a loss of $4.45 per steer not receiving the potato pulp, a difference of $7.68 per steer.

Agricultural leaders at Auburn now predicts that as soon as a practical and economical way is found to dehydrate or dry them, sweet potatoes will play a most important role in southern livestock development.

THE PRESSES are busy. Within a few weeks, a revised, illustrated edition of the popular book, "Forward March," will be ready for you. The book, originally published in 1934, has been brought up-to-date. It is a review of important industries in Alabama, and contains a list of all Alabama manufacturing establishments, giving the number of people engaged in them and the value of the products they make.

Over a period of years, our Industrial Division has aided, directly or indirectly, in the location of 341 new industries within the areas to which we supply electric service. This achievement represents nearly one-fifth of the total number of manufacturing establishments in Alabama, as reported in the Census of Manufactures (1937) by the U. S. Department of Commerce.

County 4-H Club Boys Raise Pure-Bred Poland-China Pigs

Attention is called to farmers in Shelby county to a large number of purebred Poland China boars and gilt pigs that have been bred and fed out by 4-H club boys in the county.

These pigs come from the best blood lines that can be bought in the Poland China breed. Numbers of these pigs come from such breeding line as the Fashioner and Top Row Strains. Many of these pigs are only two generations from the grand champion individuals. Top Row was grand champion at the National Swine Show held at Chicago in 1934 and 1935.

These pigs, in addition to coming from the best blood lines in the Poland China breed, have been well fed out and developed by our 4-H club boys.

Hogs have advanced in price more than one cent per pound within the past few weeks and our economist tell us that we are due for still better levels in hog prices within the next few months.

Farmers desiring to improve their hog breeding start with a few hogs on the farm would do well to sell and buy or trade for some of these pigs.

Our 4-H boys who have these pigs which are now from 8 to 12 weeks of age are as follows:

T. W. Ingram Spring Creek, Calera Rt. 1; Robert Lockeridge, Spring Creek, Calera Rt. 1; Aldon Garrett, Dry Valley, Calera Rt. 1; Clyde D. Hughes, Chapel Community, Willsonville, Rt. 2; Paul Wilder, Blue Springs Community, Willsonville, Rt. 1; Frank Wyatt, Jr., Klein Community, Vincent Rt. 1.

Billy Shaw, Union Church Community, Willsonville Rt. 1; Mack Dennis, Fourmile Community; Willsonville Rt. 1; Carl G. Bailey, Dargin Community, Silura Rt. 1; Parker Childress, Spring creek community, Calera Rt. 1; Houston Gallops, Harpersville Community, Harpersville.

The young 4-H'ers have done a good job and where you are in need of purebred gilt of boar pigs you will render real assistance and encouragement to these fine young people who are to be our future farmers and at the same time you will make a definite contribution to building up our livestock industry in our county.—W. M. Clark, Ass't Co. Agent.

Communities Are Asked To Raise Funds For Library

Mrs. W. F. Tidwell has received the following letter from Mrs. Zera K. Walton, of Columbiana, concerning the circulating library for Shelby County.

Dear Mrs. Tidwell:

The Shelby County Board of Revenue has appropriated the sum of $1,000 to match State and WPA funds to be used for circulating Library in the County. In order that the library be started with as large a supply of books as possible we are asking each community to raise whatever amount they can to supplement this $1,000. All local funds that can be raised to supplement this $1,000, will be matched on a basis of two dollars for one from State and WPA funds. In addition to this the WPA will furnished a trained librarian and also workers for the sub-stations.

This is an opportunity we can not afford to miss, as the library will serve the entire county. Suitable types of reading material will be available for adults and children. Will you please solicit contributions in your community and let us hear from you by June 1st?—Yours very truly, Mrs. Zera K. Walton.

The above letter was read at the last meeting of the Montevallo Study Club. The Club voted to give $10.00 to help promote the work of the library. In this action a request is also made that anybody interested in making a contribution, give the same to Mrs. J. R. Kelley, treasurer of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Appleton and family visited relatives in Collinsville over the week-end.

FARM NOTES

Crimson cover seed should be harvested as soon as the seed have turned brown, if mowing, be sure to mow early in the morning while dew is on to keep seed from shattering.

To save Willamette vetch seed, the vetch should be mowed as soon as seed are ripe and beat out, or run through a grain thresher.

The early weed crop should be mowed off the lespedeza hay fields, being careful not to clip the lespedeza.

Soybean hay should be fertilized with 200 to 300 pounds of acid phosphate per acre.

Now is a good time to start a permanent hay crop by planting 2 to 3 acres of Serecia Lespedeza which will last for years giving about 2 tons of hay per acre. Prepare the land and apply about 300 pounds of phosphate per acre; plant 30 to 40 pounds of scarified seed per acre and run a roller over the land.

The Mexican bean beetle is appearing over the County at present. These beetles can be successfully controlled by dusting with derris powder. Just remember to poison early before the beans are severely damaged.

Farmers should produce all the corn needed on the farm, which can be figured as follows:

Mule	60 to 75 bushels
Cow	20 bu.
Meat hog	15 bu.
Brood sow	60 bu.
Hen	1 bu.
Person	3 bu.

SIDE-DRESS CORN AND COTTO

Corn following a good crop of vetch or Austrian peas turned does not need to be side-dressed. There is not enough corn made in Shelby County to take care of home needs; experiments show that the additional corn from side-dressing can be produced at a cost of about 20 cents per bushel. Side-dress corn 35 to 40 days after planting with 36 pounds of nitrogen, which would be 225 pounds of soda to and acre.

Cotton fertilized with 6-8-4 should not be side-dressed, but cotton fertilized with 500 pounds of 3-8-5 should be side-dressed with 120 lbs. of soda per acre; do this at first cultivation after chopping.

GOLSON-HAND COMBINE TO CONTROL "THE SUN"

The Times finds particular reason to felicitate Hunter Golson and Bonnie Hand upon their recent joint venture in purchase and future operation of the LaFayette Sun.

Both these gentlemen of the press are our intimate friends. Our acquaintance with Mr. Golson goes back to the days before many of the present young editors (Bonnie among them) had ever made their appearance upon the scene.

We have known Mr. Hand since he first entered a newspaper office as "devil" in the Chilton County News shop. He was a most diligent seeker after such very elusive things as the paper stretcher, the slug masher, and barber pole ink. Upon some occasions he even sought the left-handed monkey wrench.

His earnestness in those things marked him as one who really had the determination necessary to a successful career as a newspaper man.

His later years have proved his mettle. We are glad of the opportunity he has in association with Mr. Golson in a paper of such fine traditions as The Sun.

There is no doubt these two will succeed in their aim to make The Sun shine brightly in Chambers County.

Summer School

subjected to thorough scrutiny and a growing body of evidence has accumulated indicating the proper procedures for the prevention and correction of such difficulties.

The problem of speech defects has likewise attracted considerable attention in educational circles. The realization that the emotional, social and intellectual growth of the child is contingent in large part on his ability to communicate with others has quickened interest in this direction.

This summer Alabama College is holding its first annual conference on reading and Speech Problems for the purpose of familiarizing the members of the teaching profession with the recent developments in these fields.

Conference Leaders

Daniel D. Howard, Director of Reading Clinic, Gulf Coast Military Academy, Gulfport, Mississippi the (Director of Conference); Miss Lela Wade Rice, First Grade Supervisor, Alabama college; Dr. J. I. Riddle Department of education, Alabama College; Dr. Ullin W. Leavell, Professor of Education, George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tennessee; Miss Olivia Lawson, Associate in Education, Alabama College; Mr. J. H. Henning, Director of Speech Clinic, Alabama College; Miss Annie Mae Paulk, Assistant to Mr. Henning.

DR. A. F. HARMAN

Several years ago at the high school in Lexington, S. C., a young man graduated and went forth into the world to pursue his ambitions for a successful and useful life. Tuesday this same man, in the person of Dr. A. F. Harman, returned to Lexington High School to make the graduating address. One may scarcely conceive the sentiments that welled up in his heart as the man, after his years of great achievement, retraced his steps to the place where he stood as a youth full of hope and ambition.

Shelby Clinic

tients with hospital-patient days amounting to 907.

Would it interest you to know that 70 per cent of the cases served are charity or semi-charity cases, leaving the narrow margin of 30 per cent full payment cases to meet the $500.00 to $700.00 by close shaving monthly expenditures.

And would you somehow find a tug at your heart-strings when the exceedingly busy Surgeon, Doctor Consultant, Adviser, Orderly, for the absence of a wheel stretcher this above entitled personage carries the patient in his arms from the operating room to the bed, smilingly tells you that he thus serves because he likes the work, or the gracious happy-faced nurses assure you that the twelve hour shifts are all right for them since they have such a nice doctor to work for or the charming superintendent, Lady Gould, greets you in her unassuming manner, meanwhile keeping the perfectly correct diet for each patient in preparation with her own hands; an eye on two stalwart sons; an encouraging word for hospital attaches and patient alike, and all the while her spirit as truly harmonious as the melodies that flow from the harp strings under her gifted touch?

Are "privilege" and "opportunity" words to convey Shelby County's inheritance in this field of endeavor—or do they ring with triteness and inadequateness? Would you rather say "challenge," and then meet the question with determination to complement and complete this God-sent blessing in "all the ways you can?"

The Shelby Clinic has fifteen beds; four available for colored people, eleven for white people. The hospital has three bassinets. There are private rooms with baths. Modern, scientific equipment in all departments.

Some of the additional needs of the hospital are an oxygen mask and apparatus; wheel stretcher; linens; a larger X-ray machine. The present machine is very serviceable but a larger one is desirable.

The grounds are being planed for continued beautification and flowers and shrubs offer another means of assistance for individuals or club groups who are interested in being of service.

When the hospital was designed provisions were then made for expansion of the building. It is entirely possible now for a ward to be established. A ward containing three beds at the low cost of $300 a month giving full medical care to the patients, and allowing slight margin for increased staff workers.

Once He said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

Once a good man suggested an "Inasmuch Club".

Shelby county you are facing a challenge.—C. W. Luck, Columbiana, Alabama.

the war situation. It is through this committee that war resolutions would come to the House for a vote. Its members write, work for and pilot through the House all measures concerning neutrality and laws governing our relations with foreign governments.

The Congressman cited his work for farmers, for war veterans, for laboring people and his cooperation with city and county officials of the Sixth District in getting government money for worthwhile projects. He said he appreciated the fine vote of confidence given him in the first primary in which he received over 46 per cent of the total vote. He urged all voters to cast their vote in the June 4th run-off primary.

"I regret that I have been unable to see all my friends and supporters during the campaign, but I want all of you to know of my desire to do so and be assured that I have been and will continue to work for your best interest."

In a final message to the voters in an advertisement elsewhere in this issue, Mr. Jarman, although expressing positive conviction that he would be elected, said, "I urge you to guard against a feeling of overconfidence and to get out the maximum vote. Let us be vigilant, and roll up a majority that will express the strong approval of my record which I am sure you honestly and sincerely feel."

"Many who voted for other candidates in the first primary have now pledged their support to me and I wish to tender my sincere appreciation to everyone for your fine efforts and unselfish work in my behalf."

To Our Friends and Customers

TWENTY-EIGHT years ago we began manufacturing and selling ice in Shelby County, and owing to the necessities of life, sickness, etc., we have given service 365 days in the year. Ice could be sold at a greatly reduced price if we could sell in the summer months and cease operations during the winter. But we do not give service in the summer and quit in the winter.

In buying ice from us you are patronizing a Shelby County concern employing Shelby County people. We employ 25 people in the ice business during the summer months, pay taxes and license to Shelby County on our plants in Montevallo and Calera. A portion of this tax money comes back to your community in the way of relief, schools and other valuable purposes that make it a good county in which to live.

Our ice is of excellent quality, always passing the State of Alabama bacteriologist examinations as to purity. Our prices have always been fair and in line, under equal circumstances, with other legitimate concerns.

If we are forced out of the ice business here, we know of no other territory in which to sell ice, our employees will lose their jobs, and rust will eat up our plants.

You have been good to us during these 28 years, for which we thank you. We have tried to be good to you, and have tried to upbuild and not destroy. Now we ask you to please stick to us in order that we can continue to stay in the business and be YOUR ICE MAN.

War or no war, the Sixth District still needs able, alert aggressive representation in Congress

BILLY PARTLOW

At this time it is highly important that the people of the Sixth District do not lose sight of the fact that we need adequate representation in Congress. Any attempts to cloud the real issues by indulging in glittering generalities about the foreign situation must be swept aside by a searching inquiry into the type of service we receive from our representative.

The domestic problems of this nation must be faced squarely. Your Congressman must be on hand when the problems of the nation are being discussed. He must be ready to take a stand on controversial issues. He must be on hand to vote when important legislation is before the House. Failure to do so is to violate the sacred trust placed in him by the people at the time of his election. No excuses can be made for the betrayal of that trust.

The farmers, the laborers, the school children, the business and professional men all cry out for stronger representation. Our present Congressman has already failed the farmers of this District by withholding his vote on parity payments. He has failed the laboring man by voting against his interests on several occasions. He has failed the schools by refusing to take any action on their problems. We may reasonably assume that he will fail us in dealing with foreign affairs.

Don't take chances! Strengthen your Congress now!

Army Recruiting Quota Raised To 1600 Men During June

The United States Army Recruiting Office, Post Office Building, Birmingham, has received the following telegram from Headquarters, Montgomery: "The Fourth Corps Area, consisting of the States of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee, has received instructions to augment its army recruiting activities with a view of securing a monthly quota of over 1600 men for the Regular Army. An intelligent and prompt response from the young men to their opportunity for training both along military and technical civilian occupations lines is expected and will undoubtedly reflect the tenor of the entire country toward adequate national defense."

Immediately upon receipt of the above telegram, this office was allotted a quota of 2 (colored) for 24th Infantry, 2 (colored) Company L, 48th Quartermaster Regiment, and unlimited vacancies for Field Artillery and 3rd Battalion, 8th Infantry, at Fort Benning, Ga., and Four vacancies for colored boys, are the first this office has been allotted in more than five years.

Young men desiring an opportunity to enlist in the United States Army are now urged to apply at Room 29, Federal Building, Birmingham. Applicants between the ages of 18 and 35, single and without dependents, and of good character, are now being accepted.

In order to speed up enlistments, an Army medical officer is now being ordered to duty with the local recruiting office, for the month of June. During the month of June, all men being sent in for enlistment from the Birmingham office will have received their physical examination prior to being shipped. In this way, work is being taken from doctors on duty at military posts.

After arrival at the Army post, the recruit will not be examined, and will be ready for completion of his papers, and will then be sworn in.

Alabama Coal Production Higher During This Year

Montgomery, Ala.—Alabama coal mines have produced nearly a million tons more coal in 1940 than they produced during the first four months of 1939. This is shown by a report of E. J. McCrossin, chief of the division of safety and inspection, which was made public today by Judge John D. Petree, director of industrial relations.

In the first four months of 1940 total tonnage of coal mined in Alabama was 5,211,000, compared with 4,258,500 tons in the same period of 1939, an increase for this year of 952,500 tons.

As production increased, fatalities in coal mining increased, also. McCrossin's report showed that 13 persons have been killed in coal mine accidents this year, compared with seven in the same period of 1939. Seven deaths this year were caused by rock falls, three by haulage accidents, one by electricity, one by powder explosion and one by machinery.

PETE JARMAN

As the campaign closes, I desire to express to all my friends and well-wishers my heartfelt gratitude for the help you have rendered me. Many who voted for other candidates in the first primary have now pledged their support to me and I wish to tender my sincere appreciation to those of you who have joined our ranks in the fight for the best interests of the Sixth District.

No real issue exists between my opponent and my self except a comparison of our ability to serve you. His promises and my record are substantially identical except that my record consists of accomplished facts, including my work and votes on the floor of the House and in House committees, while he promises to do what I have already voted for or am already on record as favoring. His promises are not the promises of political experience nor of political conviction; they result from a desire to promote his personal and family ambitions.

My promise is a continuation of my record of actual achievements for the Sixth District. It is made under convictions which are formed by the serious conditions which confront us as a nation and as a Congressional District in this solemn hour.

I am confident that the electorate, realizing these facts, will give me an even more impressive vote of confidence on June 4 than was accorded me in the first primary. Even so, I urge you to guard against a feeling of over-confidence and to get out the maximum possible vote. Let us be vigilant and let every person interested in good government do his or her part to roll up a majority that will express the strong approval of my record which I am sure you honestly and sincerely feel. REMEMBER, EVERY VOTE COUNTS!

I anticipate with pleasure continuing to serve you with the same diligence and zeal so that our government, our District, and our people may obtain the maximum benefits from an intelligent, sincere, experienced representation in Congress.

Faithfully your friend,
PETE JARMAN

Keep Jarman in Congress

Next Tuesday, June 4, the Democrats of the Sixth District will have the obligation of choosing their nominee for Representative in Congress for the next two years. It is a solemn obligation for no man knows what the next two years may bring to our beloved country. President Roosevelt, our great leader, said in a recent address that his office, the Presidency, and Congress, the lawmaking body, are a team working together for the welfare of our country. It becomes, then, our patriotic duty to send as our Representative in Congress the man who is best qualified to serve as a useful member of the great team to which President Roosevelt referred. It is no time to make experiments.

Most of the real work of Congress is done in committees. A new member, whatever his ability, is always started with assignments to the less important committees. It is a distinct tribute to Mr. Jarman that in spite of the large majority of Democrats in the Congress, he should be given such important committee assignments as he has received. He has gained invaluable experience. No new member, however able or brilliant he might be, could hope to be given in the next two years such important assignments as Congressman Jarman already holds. That old saying, "Never swap horses in the middle of a stream," certainly seems to apply here.

Congressman Jarman is a member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, one of the most important committees in Congress. He is the only member of this committee from Alabama. In these times of such dark uncertainty that no man can see far ahead, this committee will be the most important committee of Congress. The Committee on Foreign Affairs would have to approve any war resolution before it could even be brought to a vote in the House.

Congressman Jarman is a veteran of the World War. He knows from actual experience the horrors of war. He worked for the passage of the neutrality bill that so far has served to keep our country out of the awful struggle that is now destroying the nations of Europe. He promises to use every human means to protect our country and keep it in secure, honorable peace.

As to Complaints

There are a few people in our District who complain that Congressman Jarman has not been "active" and "energetic" in looking after the affairs of his District. These people either do not know the record or in their zeal to persuade our people to send an unknown and untried man to Congress have overlooked the record. There is no justice in their complaint. Congressman Jarman has not neglected his District. On the other hand, he has been both active and diligent. We doubt if there has ever been one single instance in which he failed to give prompt and conscientious response to a reasonable request from a constituent back home.

That Government Hospital

The ridiculous complaint has been made that Congressman Jarman failed Shelby County because he was not able to locate a government hospital at Shelby Springs. The truth is that the first requirement of the committee named to select the site for the hospital was that it must be near a large population center. Not a community in Shelby County could qualify. Knowing of this handicap, Congressman Jarman told the Shelby County committee of the American Legion that he would stay with them and make the fight, but the committee released him so he might work to get the hospital for some other community in his District that could qualify. Members of the American Legion verify this statement.

Farmers' Interests

There has been a complaint that Congressman Jarman has neglected the interests of the farmer. We believe that this complaint is also wholly unjust. We give below copies of two telegrams that we feel are sufficient to answer this complaint:

Telegram from Congressman Cannon, Chairman of House

Managers

(Exact Copy)

Hon. Pete Jarman
Tuscaloosa

In response to your telegram am deferring agricultural appropriation bill until after your primary. You have rendered such valuable service on farm legislation and especially on parity payments we will need you in the fight and will await your return.—Clarence Cannon, Chairman House Managers.

Telegram from Sen. Bankhead

(Exact Copy)

Hon. Pete Jarman
Tuscaloosa

The House will consider Thursday under a special rule the Bankhead-Fulmer cotton crop insurance bill. Knowing of your interest in agricultural legislation favorable to the farmers, I am wiring you so that you may arrange to be here Thursday.—J. H. Bankhead.

It goes without saying that Senator Bankhead knew Congressman Jarman was true blue in his attitude toward farmers' legislation, else he would not have sent such a telegram.

Mr. Jarman's interest in legislation favorable to farmers is shown in a letter from Edward A. O'Neal, of Alabama, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which we quote in part as follows:

"In 1938 he (Jarman) voted for the conference report on the Farm Bill. On the first vote on parity payments he voted for the Cannon amendment to add $250,000,000 for parity payments to farmers. In 1940, he voted for the renewal of reciprocal trade treaties; on the vote for $212,000,000 for parity payments he voted 'yea' and on the $85,000,000 for surplus disposal, he voted 'yea.' The American Farm Bureau Federation was for all of the above bills. Mr. O'Neal's statement with reference to Mr. Jarman's loyalty to the farm interests is endorsed by J. Frank Baker, president of the Shelby County Farm Bureau.

Let the Record Speak

The most complete answer to all these petty complaints that Congressman Jarman has not been active in behalf of his constituents is to be found in the records of the Board of Revenue and the Board of Education. Everyone knows of the numerous federal aid projects that have been developed and carried on in our county with the double purpose of giving work to our people and of making needed improvements in our county. These projects include roads, bridges, streets and sidewalks, water works and school houses, not overlooking the new high school building for Columbiana. Also there is the improvement of the old court house building in Columbiana that now belongs to the county and is one of the busiest centers of activity in the county. Neither to be overlooked is the great Oak Mountain Park project which not only has given employment to hundreds of men, but has been made into one of the most attractive recreation centers in the state.

Every one of these projects had to be approved in Washington and it should be remembered that practically every other county in the United States had similar projects for approval. It required long and patient effort to get some of these projects approved without long delay. Members of the Board of Revenue and our Board of Education bear witness that Congressman Jarman never failed them; that he was always ready to give—and did give—full cooperation in all their efforts. Let us but add that the results themselves are sufficient proof that his efforts were both efficient and effective.

Please let it be understood that in submitting the above statements we are not apologizing for Congressman's record—it needs no apology. It is a record of which both he and his friends may well feel proud. It is a record, not of trying to turn the world over all at once, but of patient, persistent effort, guided by good judgment and common sense.

We make this appeal to the voters of Shelby County: Please consider the Truth. Do not be influenced by mere statements. Get the Truth. Think of the times in which we live—think of the needs of our people. Come out on election day, and vote — and vote your honest conviction.

(Paid political adv. by Friends of Pete Jarman who live and vote in Shelby County.)
